Lisa,

I'm so proud of you. You've really accomplished a lot. Well I wish you the best of luck at school. Thanks for all of the help during your senior year. I've really had a great time with all of you guys. You're a great friend. Remember all of the parties and all of the fun we've had. Call me and don't get into trouble. Thanks for all of this stupid stuff. I will miss you guys. You're all great. Have fun in Hawaii and then there. Remember Homecoming forth Pledge Week. He's such a geek. I'll be coming down. Remember Lisa Taylor (869-0743) I'll be coming down. Remember Lisa Taylor (869-0743) I'll be coming down. Remember Lisa Taylor (869-0743)

Well, your finally out!!
it must be nice
it still have 1½ year left. I hope ever through
I'm graduating in January
I don't miss our to much.
Our British bit. does not really great. I wish you could have been there more - but I always managed to think of some sad-sob story for you. Well... good luck whatever you do - come back next year + bring your track of closers magazines!!! love

THE PRESENT NOW..

Time flows by so swiftly, especially in our high school years. It seems as though we are here barely a moment and then it is time to leave. However, when we entered, we grew in our knowledge of life and became more aware of people around us. This time of our lives is one of many questions and few answers. We wonder about things that for years we simply accepted. When SJHS opened in Sept., many new questions arose . . . What color socks can we wear with the uniform? . . . What are all these MEN doing on campus? . . . How do I get to room 415? . . . Is today Schedule A or B? . . . What happened to 302? Even a lone comment of . . . "Hey, they finally put the building up!" Each of these comments arose because with the many drastic changes that've occurred, students have found themselves . . . LOST! Perhaps the biggest change was the realization of a long awaited dream: the Multi-Purpose Building! Construction work that began in February 1978 was completed toward the end of summer. It was a welcome addition to our campus. AND, for the first time ever, students were seen roaming the campus in tennis shoes, LEGALLY! This and many other clothing changes marked our entrance into high fashion. Yes, there are Juniors and Seniors! Alas, the upperclass is no more! Some say that there is no future: just the past repeating itself. But at SJHS we have proven this all wrong.

Come gather around, people, wherever you roam; / and admit that the water's around you have grown. / And accept it that soon you'll be drenched to the bone. / If your time to you is worth saving, then you'd better start swimming or you'll sink like a stone, / for the times they are a-changin'.

Come writers and critics who prophesy with your pens, / and keep your eyes open. / The chance won't come again. / And don't speak too soon, for the wheel's still in spin, / and there's no telling who that it's naming. / 'Cause the loser now will be later to win, for the times they are a-changin'.

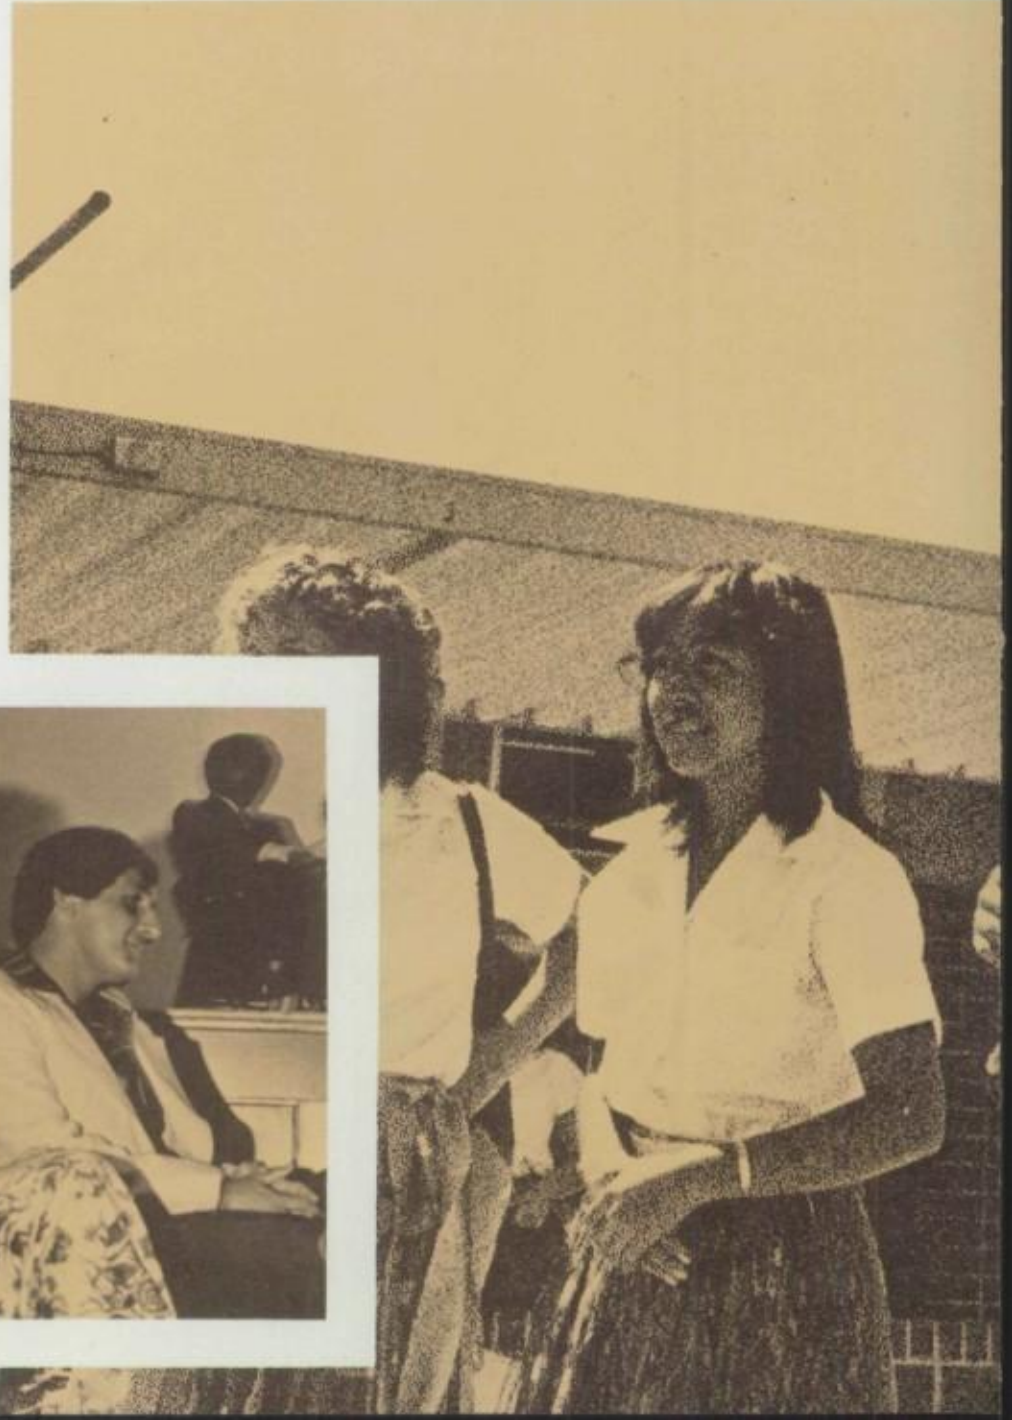
"The Times They Are A-Changin'"

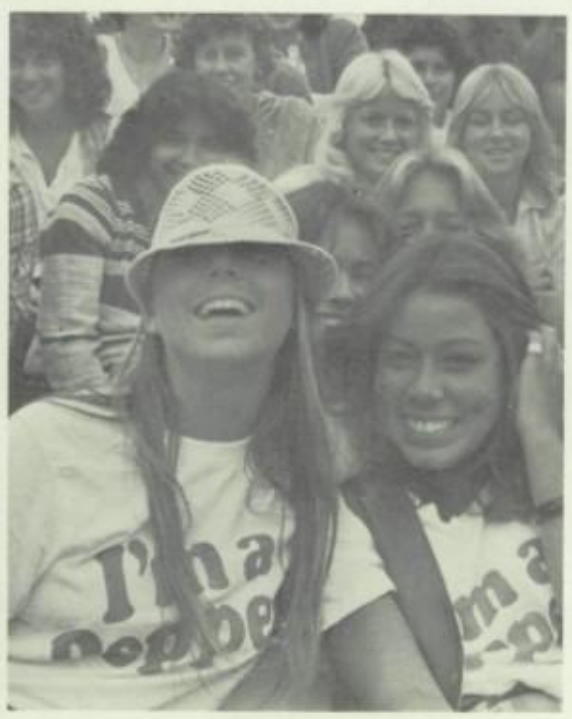
– Bob Dylan

Hey! We're off to a new s

As the happy patter of students' feet began echoing through the halls of SJHS, it was evident that our school would no longer be the quiet resort it had been in the summer. Students heaved themselves out of bed, wiped the sleep from blood-shot eyes and trudged merrily (?) to school.

A few of these scholars expected to return to the same school they left in June (fools!). But there had been a metamorphosis! Where there had been desolation, there was now the Multi-Purpose Building! Where there had been clone-like faces, there were New Teachers! Yes folks, St. Joseph's entered its summer cocoon as a caterpillar, but emerged as a beautiful butterfly!





FROSH, BY GOSH!

One of the more bizarre customs at SJ is Frosh Initiation. This little goodie has the frosh out making fools of themselves in weird costumes and even more weird skits in order to gain acceptance into SJ. Another common sight on campus is lost and wandering frosh. The solution frosh. The solution to this is Senior Sisters and Soph Buddies – there with help and/or a slap in the face.

NO KIDDING?

Days in the

All right readers, here's a little quiz for you. What do the following things have in common: "Is there an assembly today?" "My dumb locker won't open." "Are you in a club?" "I forgot there's a test today!" "Why am I so ugly?" If you guessed School Life, you're right (applause). School Life at SJHS is as varried as Mulligan Stew. I mean, how many other schools do you know that have clubs, activities, lives of...

sports, hard to open lockers, forgetful students, etc. and STILL give you time for schoolwork, socializing and the option to insult yourself?

School life at SJHS is as changing and unique as its students, and that's half the fun.

The Ring Ceremony is one of the highlights of the Junior year. It is more than just a simple passing out of rings. It is a joyful ceremony that joins friends together and brings back a few of the memories of high school.

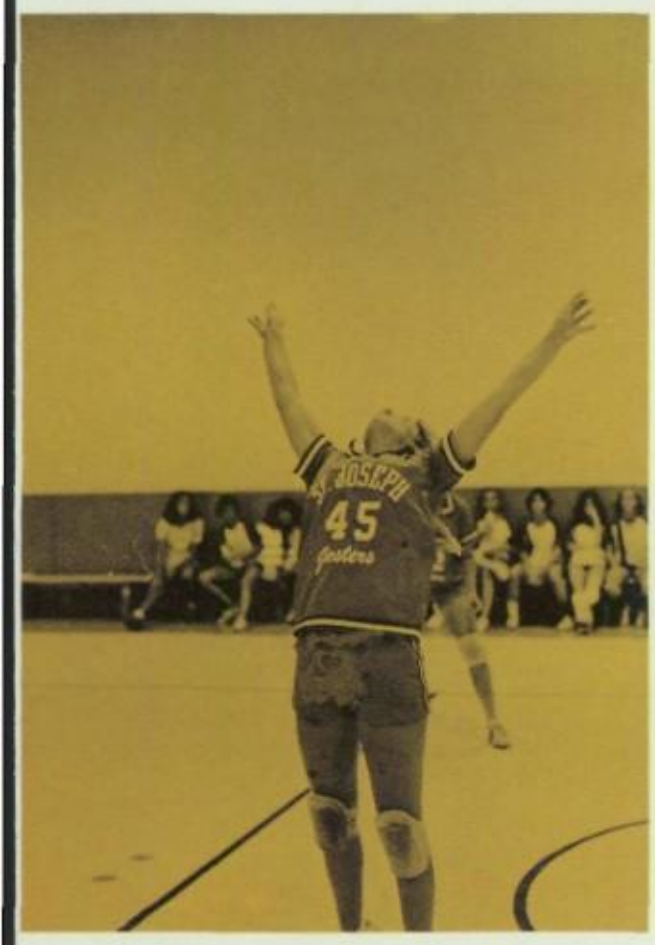
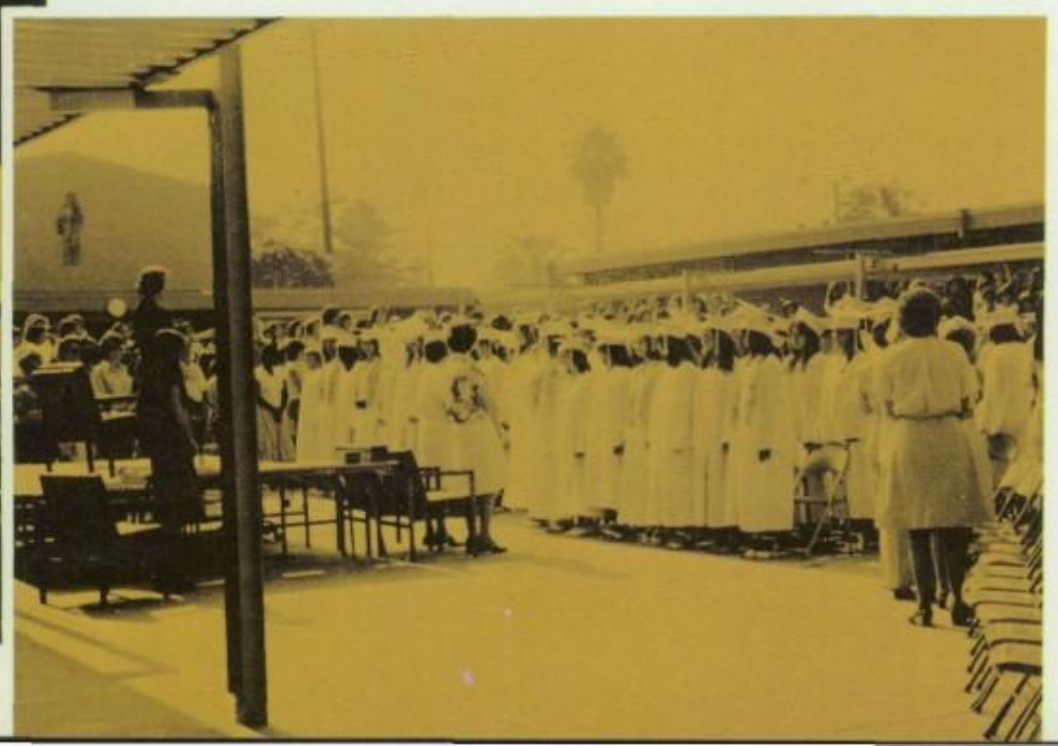
Life at SJHS revolves around each infividual in a continuous circle. While Frosh are only beginning, and others wind down the road of experience, the Grads have completed the cycle and start again on a new road of greater challenges and greater rewards.



Life is a Circle Without a Beginning...



Everything you wanted to know about socializing...

Although St. Joseph's may be lacking in some Categories, It most definitely has a surplus of social activities! These gatherings range from informal Coke machine get-togethers to the fun/boring (pick one) dances and to that uncivilized activity that has young men tearing each other to bits: Football Games!

Even though you may dislike Coke, be a wallflower, or prefer tiddlywinks, there are many social activities at SJHS to enjoy.

(BUT WERE AFRAID TO ASK)

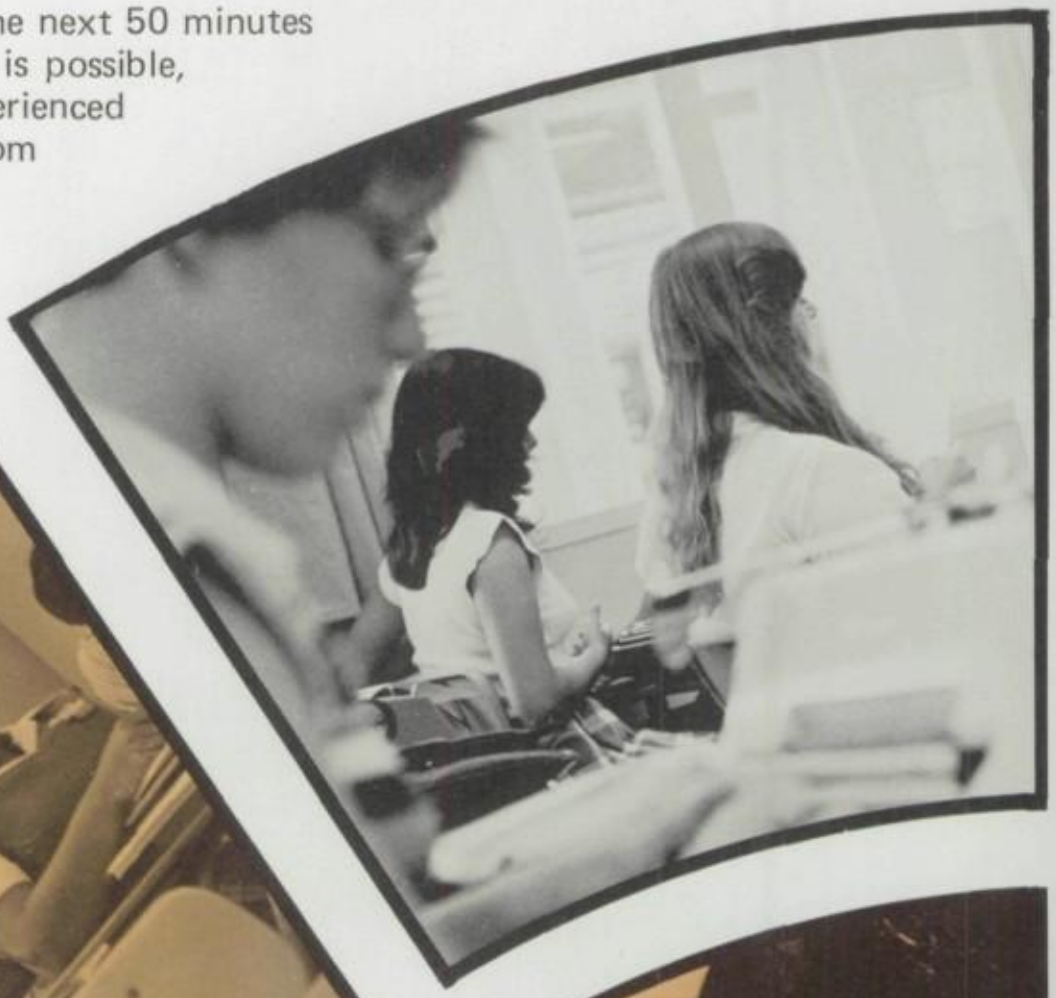
THE UNTOLD (and unknown) STORY

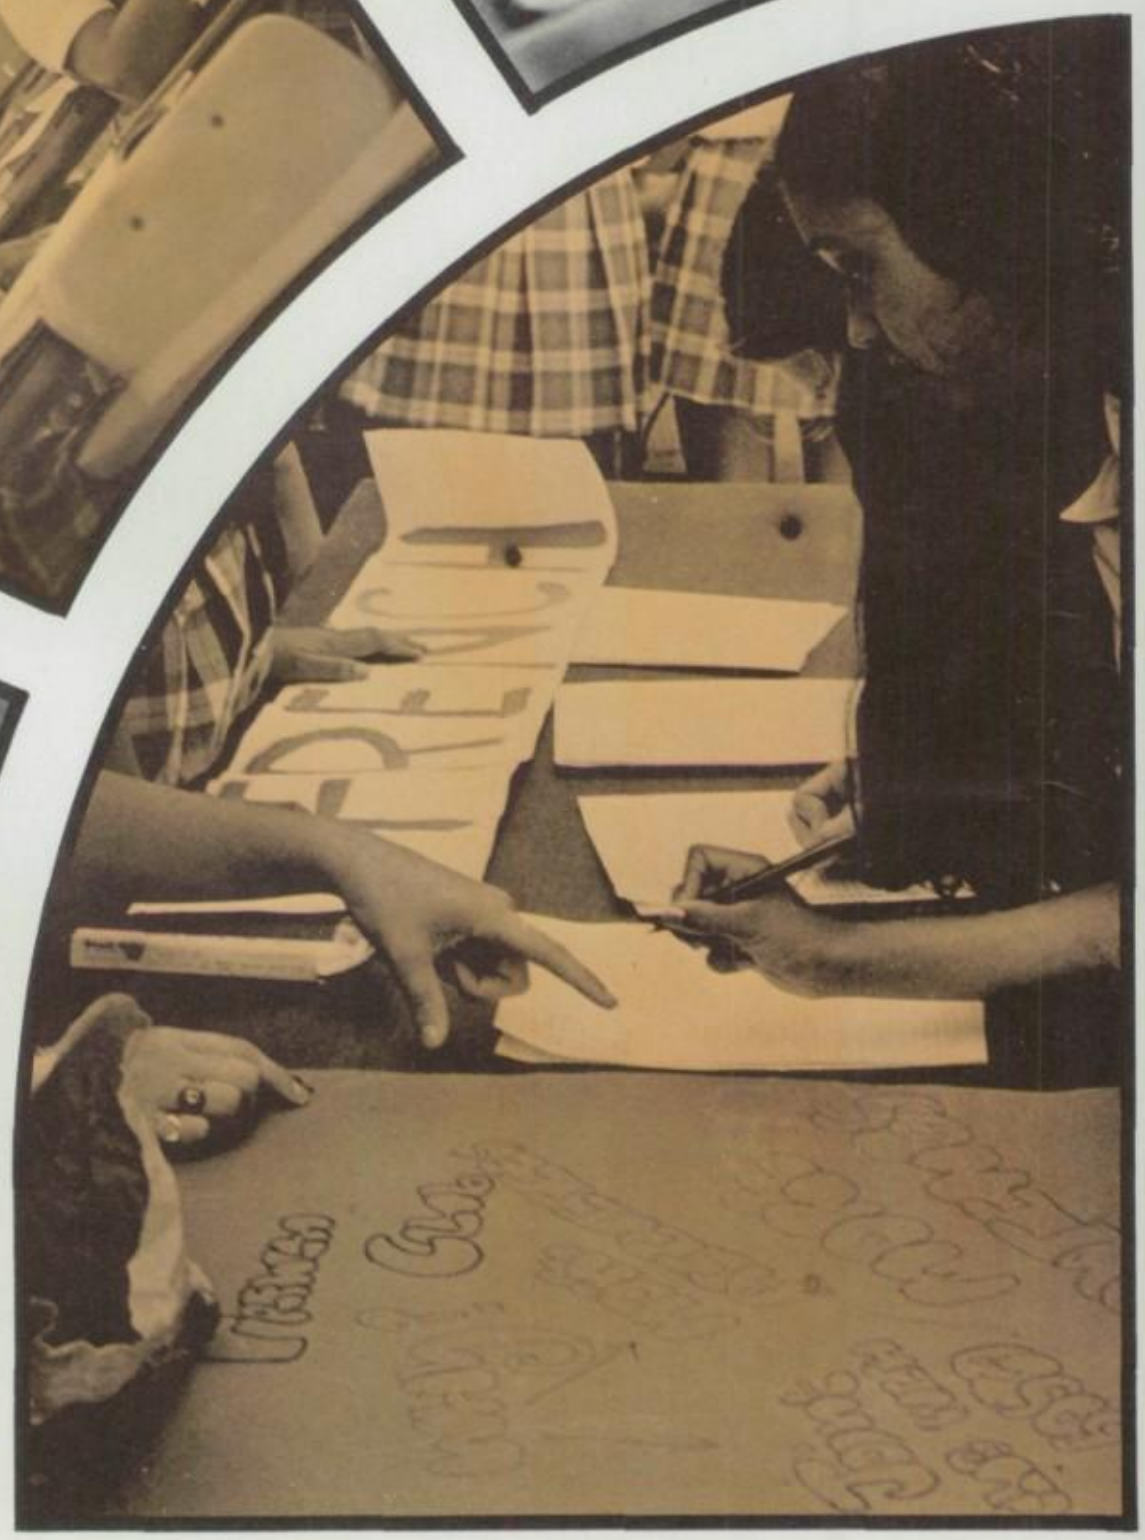
EEK! What an excuse for a face! You could come in first place for a Boris Karloff look-alike contest!

Oh? It's a mask is it? We've all heard that one before! How true it was on Halloween. No one is too high to stoop so low as to make themselves up on purpose on this miraculous day. All the classes donned costumes for both dress-up day and the dance. (Though, we suspect that this was because of a 50¢ admission savings!)

THE GREAT...

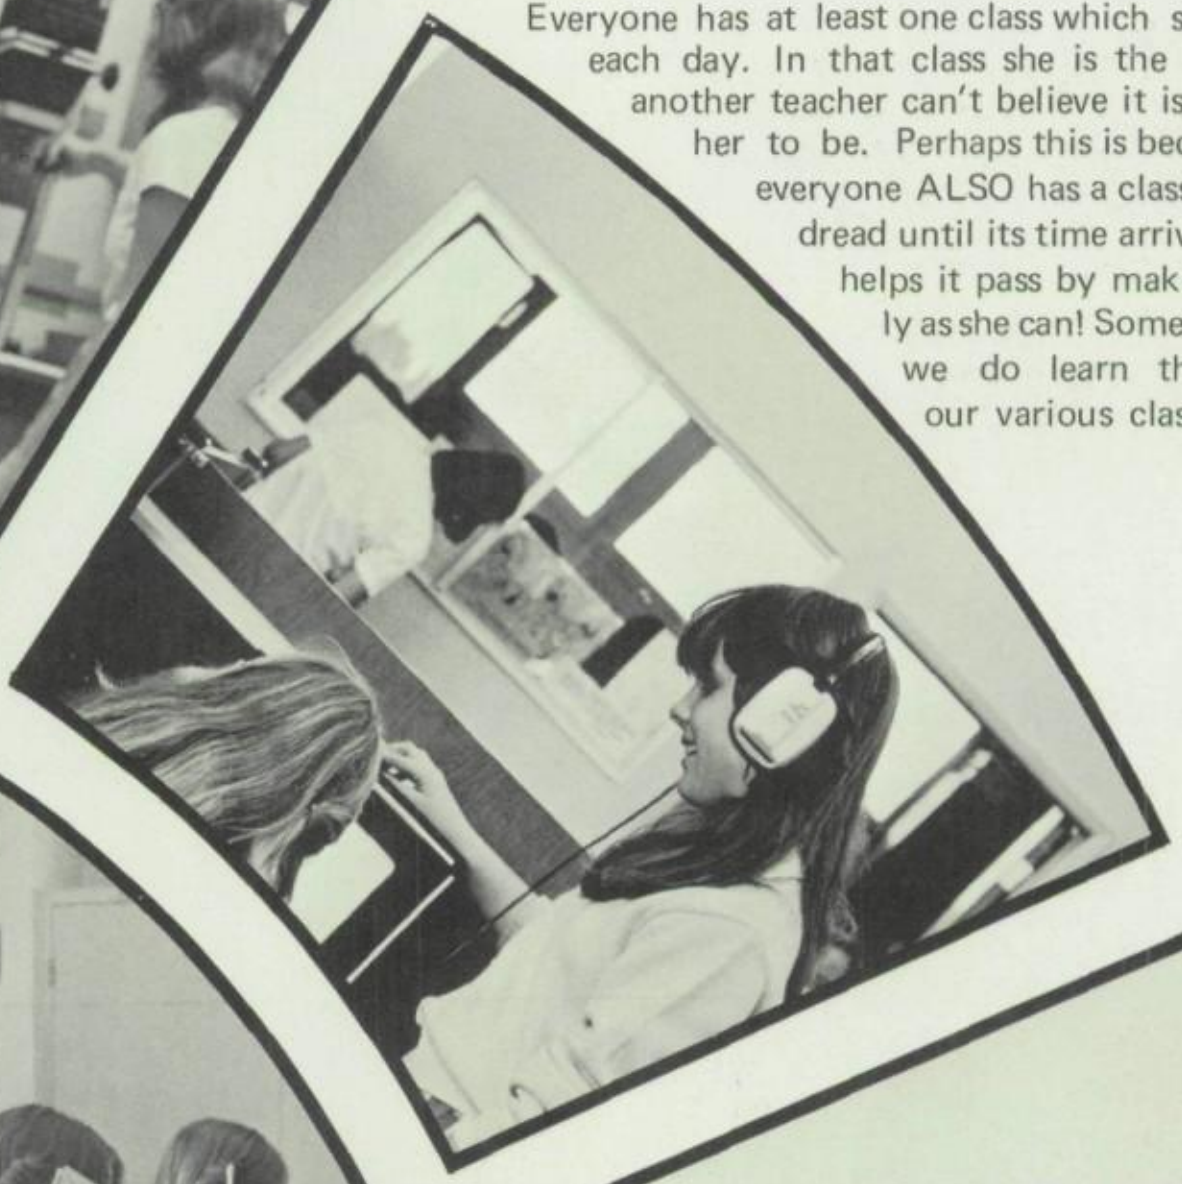
Students move swiftly through door after door, on to the next 50 minutes of excitement, torture, boredom, or maybe EVEN (it is possible, folks!) surprise!? As the school year opened everyone experienced a multitude of changes. For Freshmen, just moving from classroom to classroom was novel, and six different teachers is a welcome relief for anyone just out of grammer school. Sophs, juniors and seniors were familiar with this routine, but some new faculty gave them their share of that sort of relief. The daily drip and dull drudgery of classroom routine may at times (quite often) seem boring and/or lifeless, but during the '78-'79 school year, change not only occurred materially, but also in the hearts, minds, and attitudes of everyone here in the wonderful world of SJHS.





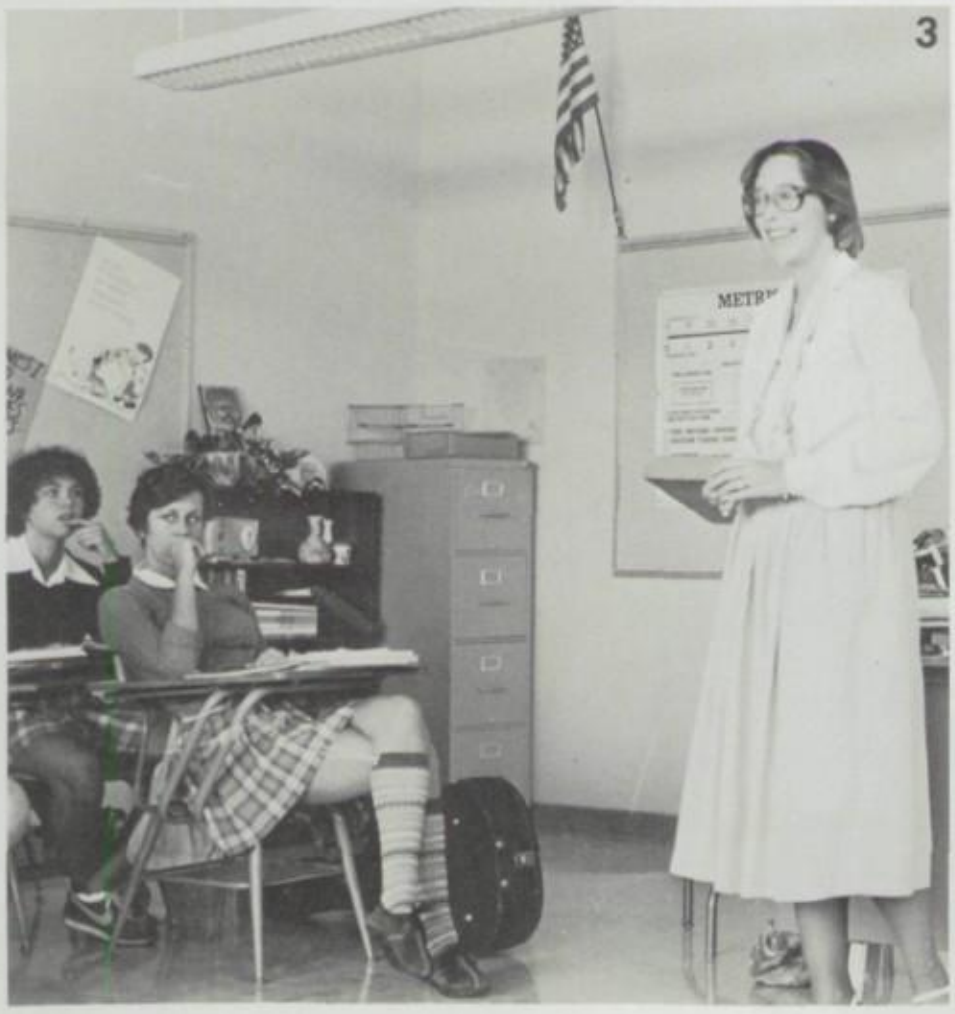
BRAIN ROBBERY

The "wonderful" world? YES! It is wonderful, (kind of). Think of it – a few years ago kids at school just learned Reading, Writing and 'Rithmetic, but now, voila! We have Contemporary Lit., Tolkien, Speech, Business English, Consumer Math, Geometry, Crafts, Psychology and even Morality. (In case some Sophomores have any questions!) Classes, teachers and girls vary but from 8 – 2:30 all work together.



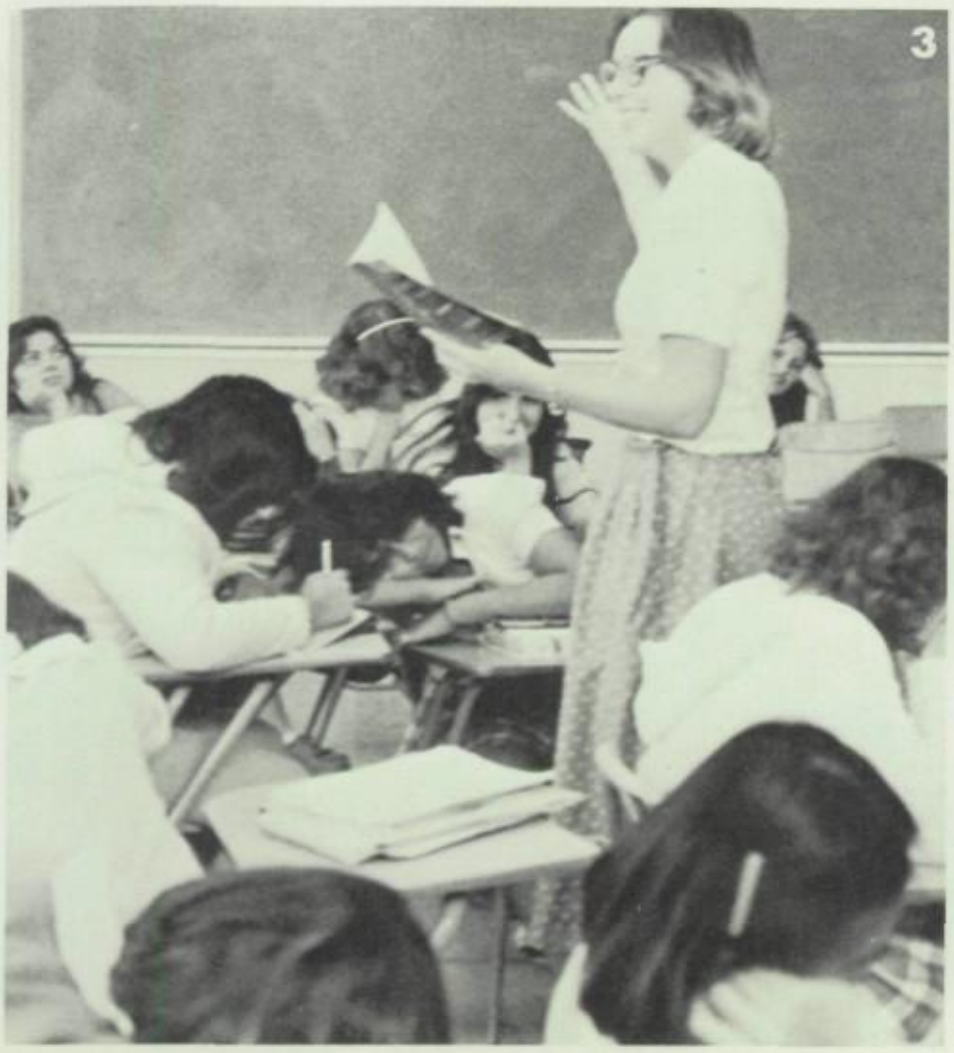
Everyone has at least one class which she waits for each day. In that class she is the angel which another teacher can't believe it is possible for her to be. Perhaps this is because almost everyone ALSO has a class which they dread until its time arrives, and then helps it pass by making it as lively as she can! Somehow though, we do learn things in all our various classes!

Underneath it all...



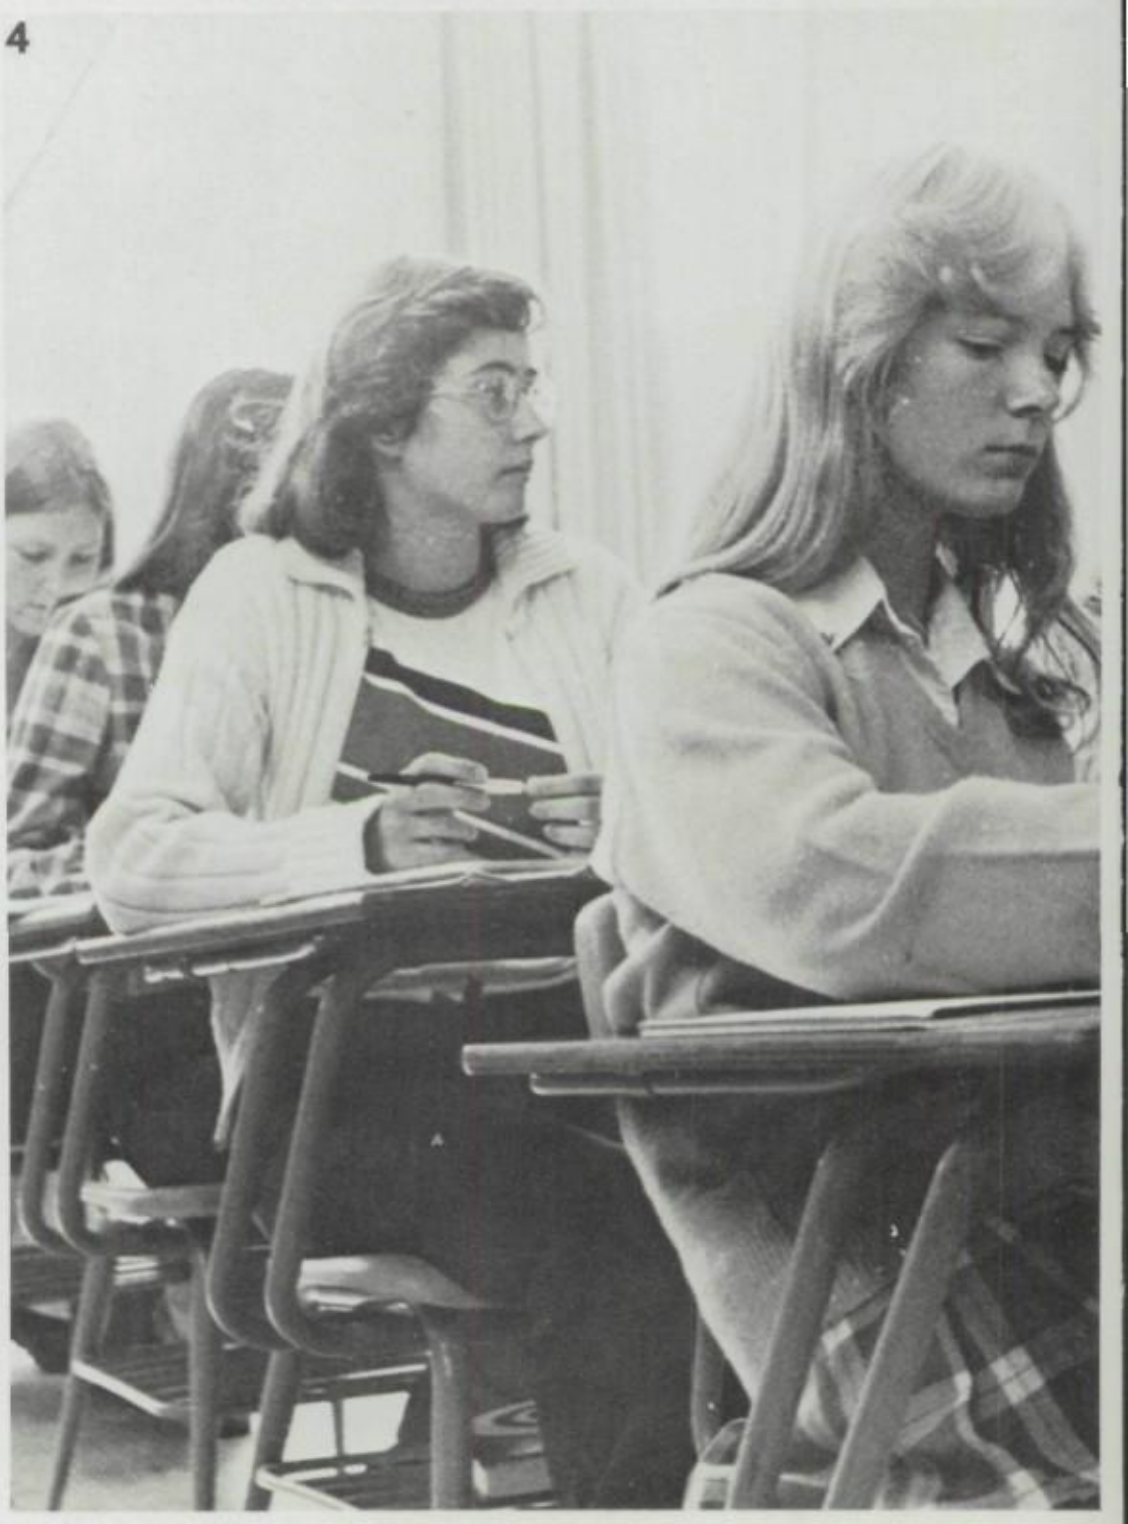
1. Intent looking freshmen are a common sight in Freshmen religion classes here at St. Joseph High School.
2. Father Juan is a welcome newcomer to the school.
3. Miss Tomberlin finds religion a laughing matter, but her students find out that religion is no-o-o joke!!
4. Our boxes runneth over with Thanksgiving goodies donated by the students and faculty at St. Joseph's.

In this year of drastic change, perhaps the most startling changes in the Catholic world were the deaths of Popes Paul VI and John Paul I. For students, the popes' deaths meant Masses, announcements and a new awareness of our Catholic Family in Rome. A Pole now heads the Church. The community here at St. Joseph's, where 700 people live ten months of the year, has felt this especially. Students spend time learning about their religion. Classes search for deeper understanding of God, society, Catholicism, and themselves. God is a vital focus for us. He is the inspiration which helps us gain understanding of life — just as He does for our new Pope.



1. Group discussions are often a break in the day-to-day routine of many religion classes here at St. Joseph's.
2. Freshmen strain their brains and eyes as they are faced with the challenges of understanding Challenges.
3. Miss Tomberlin puts her best foot forward as she explains the emergence of our Church in Emerging Church.
4. Sophomores tune out the world and tune into the Bible.

From Tennyson To Tolkien



1. Theresa, Gabi, Alice and Mona ponder American Lit.
2. Laura Gunther is one of the sophs who really enjoys speech class. (Those sophs are collector's items!)
3. Stella Schmidt and classmates thrive under the influence of British Lit. See? Stella is thriving!
4. Mary Olson loves Contemporary Lit. so much . . . "How much does she?!" so much that she, that she . . . that um,

From Commas To Quotes.

1. This class of sophs perceives that Perceptions is puzzling.
2. This classroom seems endless, but the course doesn't. For soph's like these, speech is one step up the ladder of English!
3. Marie Westphal gets exasperated with her speech class, but perhaps they're just happy to see her modeling stance?!
4. Eileen and her gang demonstrate pooling ideas and using them in an extemporaneous skit dealing with family holidays.

1. Carolyn tries not to become typecast.
2. Lisa and Bibian have the "Sitting-at-the-Typewriter-Blues" in Clerical Typing.

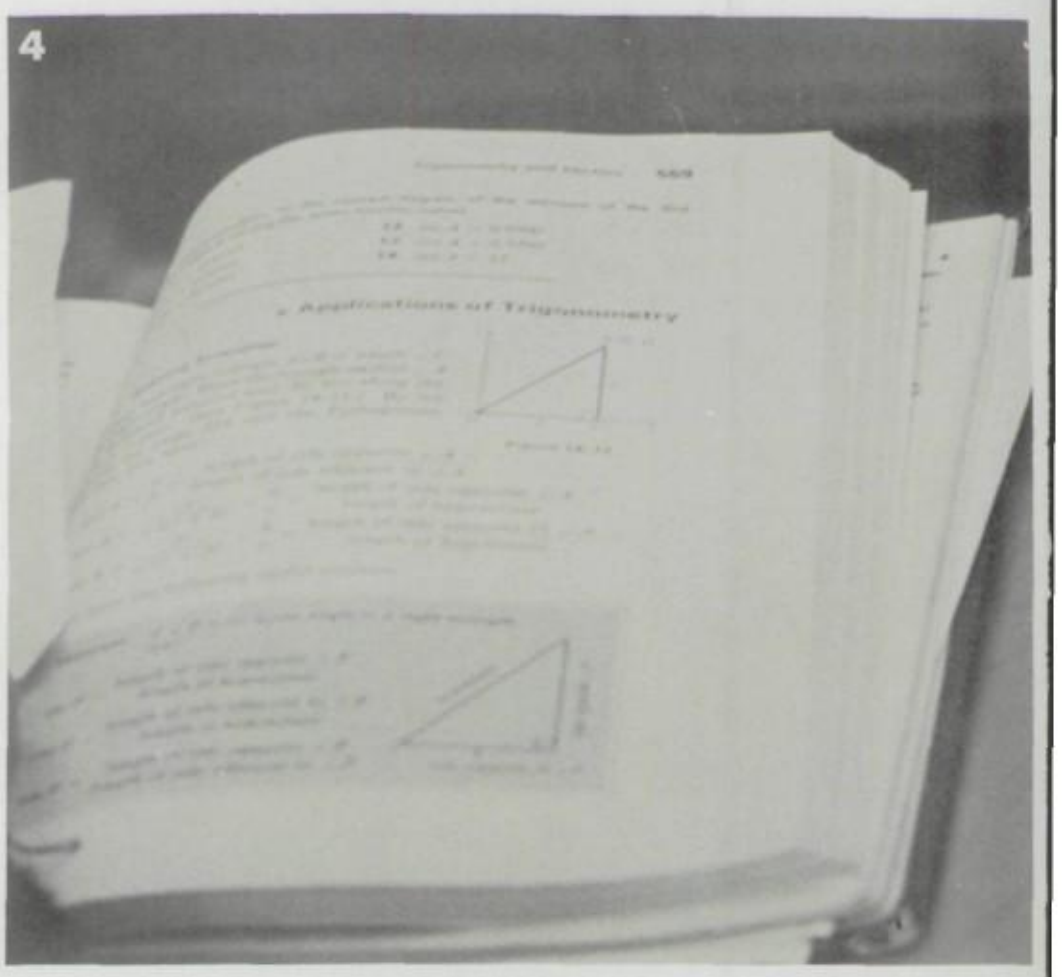
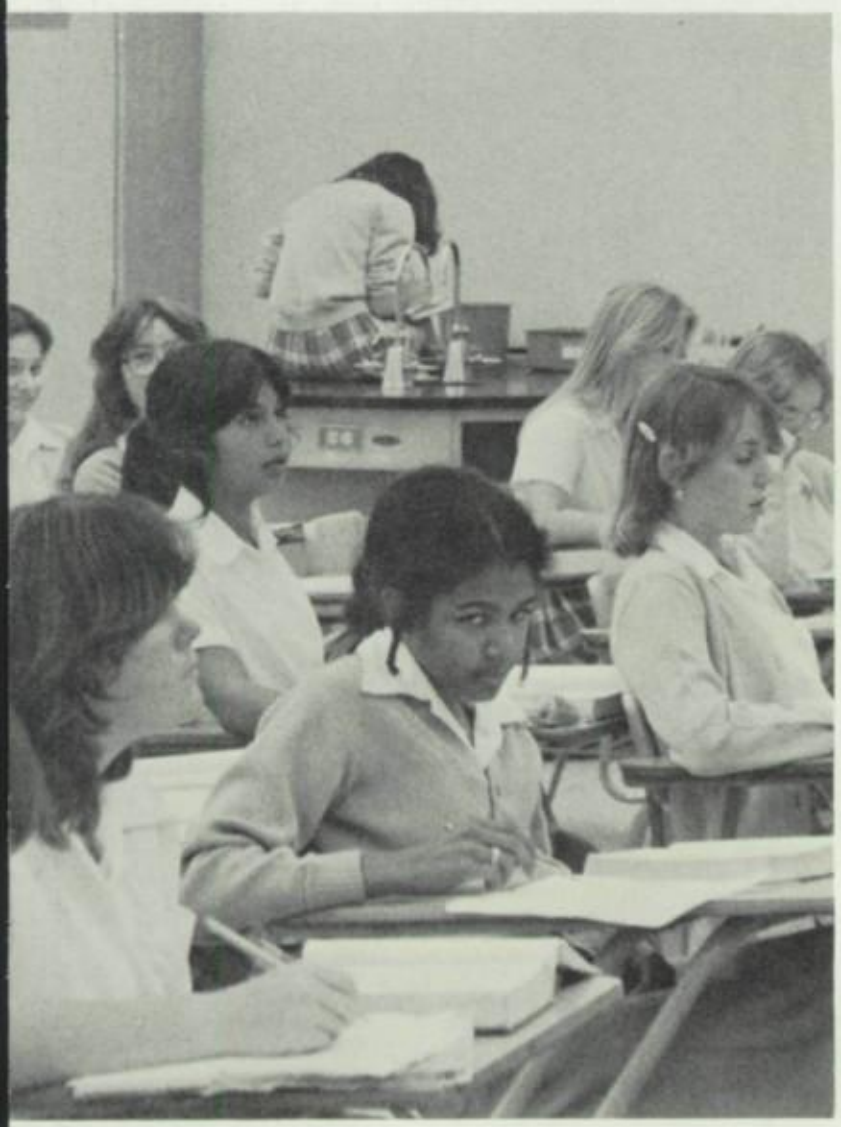
EAT YOUR HEART

1. Concentration is a must for all the Geometry students.
2. Most of your freshmen year is spent weathering the storms of Algebra and algebraic computations.
3. Frances Prieto gives an intense chalkboard bound look as she dilligently studies a complicated proof.
4. Putting problems in print (as is done here) often helps to put things in their proper perspective.



POCKE

S OUT,



. Miss Ponczocha's Geometry class is so-o-o anxious to answer that she runs out of questions to ask them.

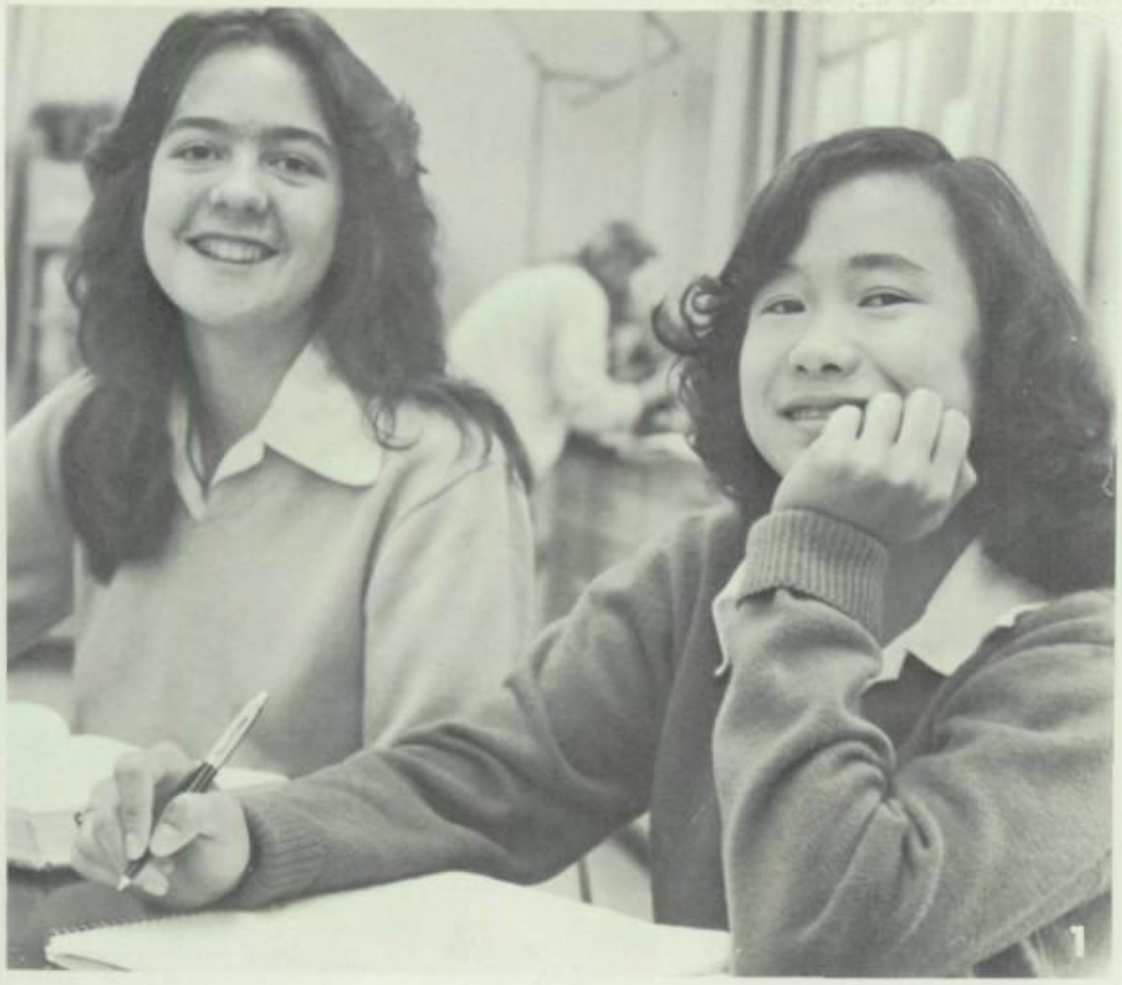
. And when her students aren't busy answering they are pondering the complicated theorems of Geometry.

. Although they may look mild-mannered now, these unsuspecting students could emerge to be the future Super-Geniuses of our world. Ha, Ha, fooled you again!

T CALCULATORS!

1. Susie Allen gives a devilish grin because only she knows the formula for her diabolical concoction.
2. Ellen Bryant and Patty Morales focus their attention on the chemical reaction they have created.
3. Looking down at little beings, eh? Are they looking back? Sue Samson will never divulge the secret.
4. Carolyn Fitterer knows the ropes about BSCS.

Bubble, Bubble, Toil and Trouble!



1. Corrine and Susan take a break from osmosis and mitosis to flash a big biological smile for the photographer.
2. Claudette St. Pierre looks intently at some poor creature in Biology. Don't you believe in privacy, Claudette?
3. IPS is sure a fun class. These seniors love the idea of mixing different chemicals and compounds. (They could even be the future Einsteins, who knows?)
4. Semi-chemists Cathy Ramirez and Jeannette Garay perform an operation on an unsuspecting test tube. Hope they have malpractice insurance . . .(a lot!).

History of the World in

1. "No, no, don't shoot! Please," is the cry heard by Carrie McDermott.
2. Which one of these interested-looking Government students will be the next President? Only time (and report cards) will tell.
3. Minority Studies class in action.
4. Abe Lincoln would be proud of these busy-looking history students.

5. Here are the majority of the Minority Studies girls.

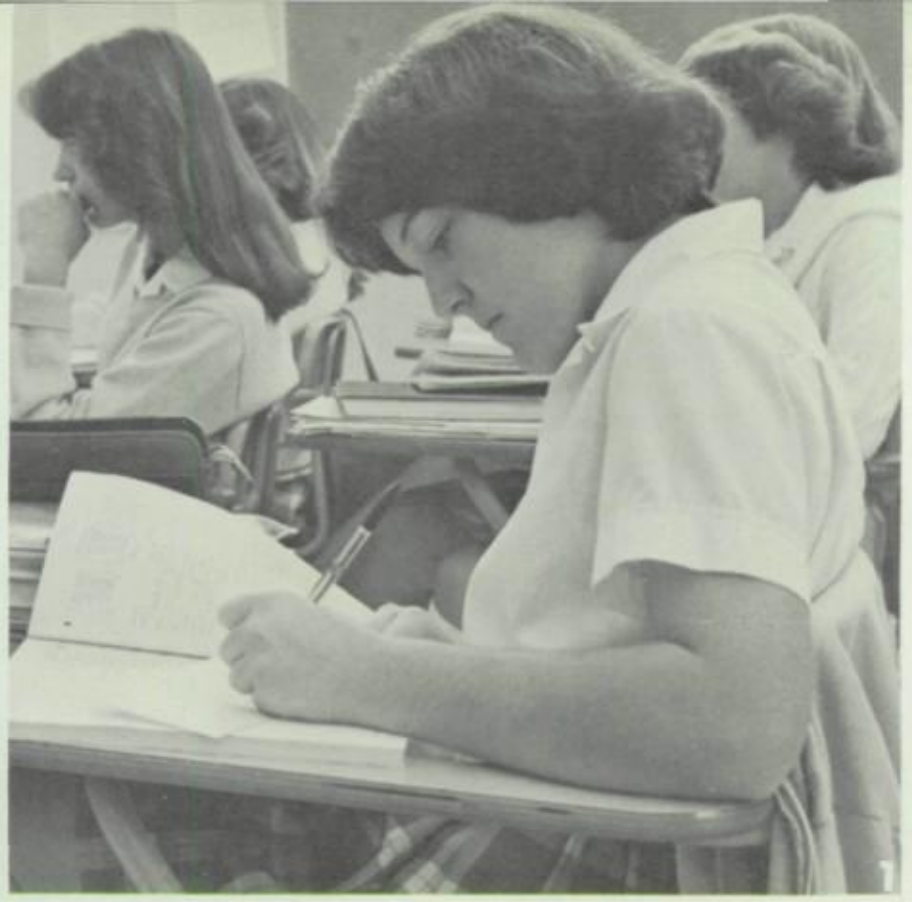
Güten tag, mon ami!
¿Qué tal?*

1. Maria Solorzano is so enthusiastic when it comes to French that she may break something! Poor thing.

2. Kelly Marshall thinks not of her French class but of Pierre and Jean.

3. Did Sr. Ann Marguerite and a few German students find the Watergate tapes? Yes, but they're in German.

4. In an emergency these headphones spring down and provide answers.



1. Gina works feverishly ever since she's caught "Spanish Night Fever".

2. Boy, see the look of cheer on Mrs. Duvall's face. Must be one of those angelic classes she teaches.

3. Take Yvonne's advice: Don't buy Sominex – just take Spanish III, Ha!

4. Surely French couldn't be as amusing as Sybil and friend seem to think. Rhonda has the right idea.

*Hey Dude! What's the Haps?

1. Who knows what magical creation will come from this artistic endeavor?

2. Jean Allen and friend stare blankly at cloth and wonder what they're doing.

3. This beginning clothier still dreams of wearing clothes other than the uniform.

4. A budding Rembrandt in our midst? Maybe, as soon as she paints something!

FROM TELEVISION CITY IN HOLLYWOOD:

The Faculty are definitely the unsung hereos at St. Joseph's. These heroic teachers slave and toil through bored and/or smart-mouthed students, lame excuses like, "My dog ate my homework," and the hours of planning lessons and correcting papers. Some outdated individuals still think of a teacher as a ferocious beast always with a solid steel ruler in hand. Of course this kind of a teacher is practically non-existant at SJHS. We students at SJHS are very lucky that we have such caring and dedicated staff members. Our teachers willingly donate much of their time in order to help students many different ways. Teachers evaluated last year's lesson plans and made revisions for this year's students.

ALL IN THE FACULTY

Teaching (and teachers) have come a long way from the days of old with a one-room schoolhouse, a slate, the three R's, and a schoolmarm. To begin with, not all of our lovable teachers here are marms; there are also males, (schoolmales that is). Using just a slate as a teaching utensil? You're kidding, right? That idea went out with Truman. Today's average SJHS teacher would be lost without audio/visual equipment, periodicals, movies, charts, and what do you call those old things; um, oh yeah: books! Despite all the new-fangled teaching methods and equipment, our teachers still believe in punishment. (although it is modern, casual 1970's punishment). Instead of standing in the corner, we return to Mother Earth and help clean up the field. How kind! BUT, we at SJHS think our faculty is OK.

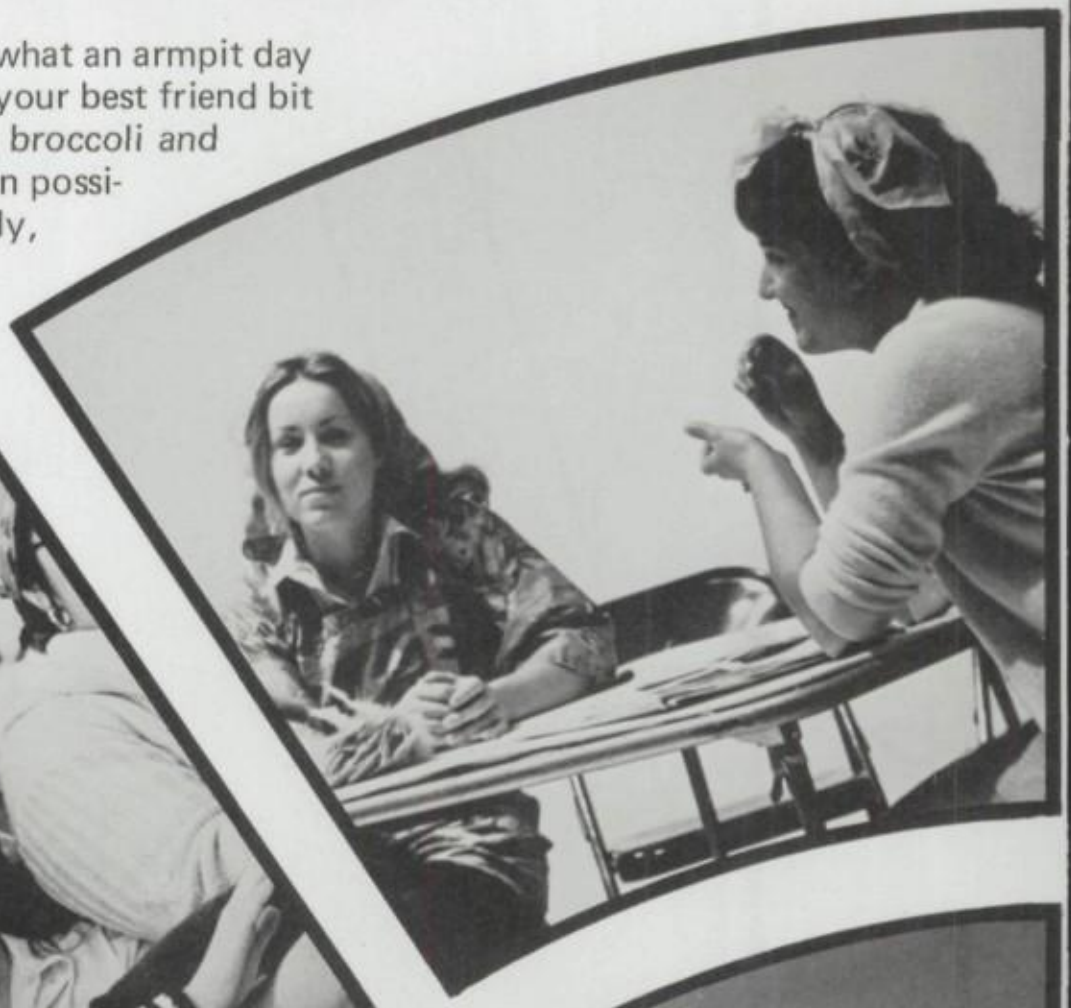
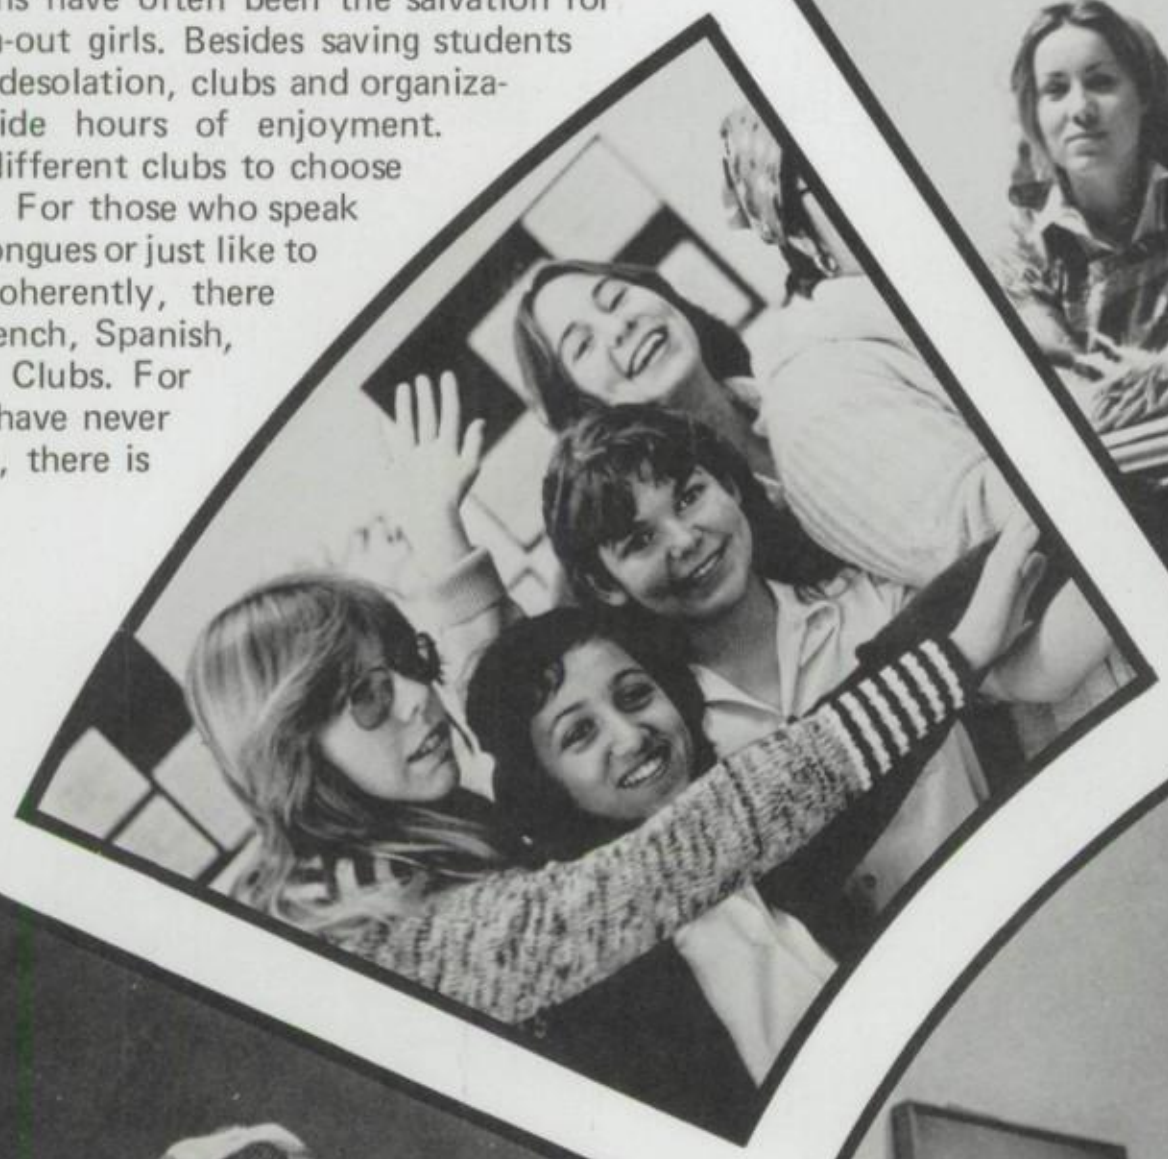
AFTER HOURS:

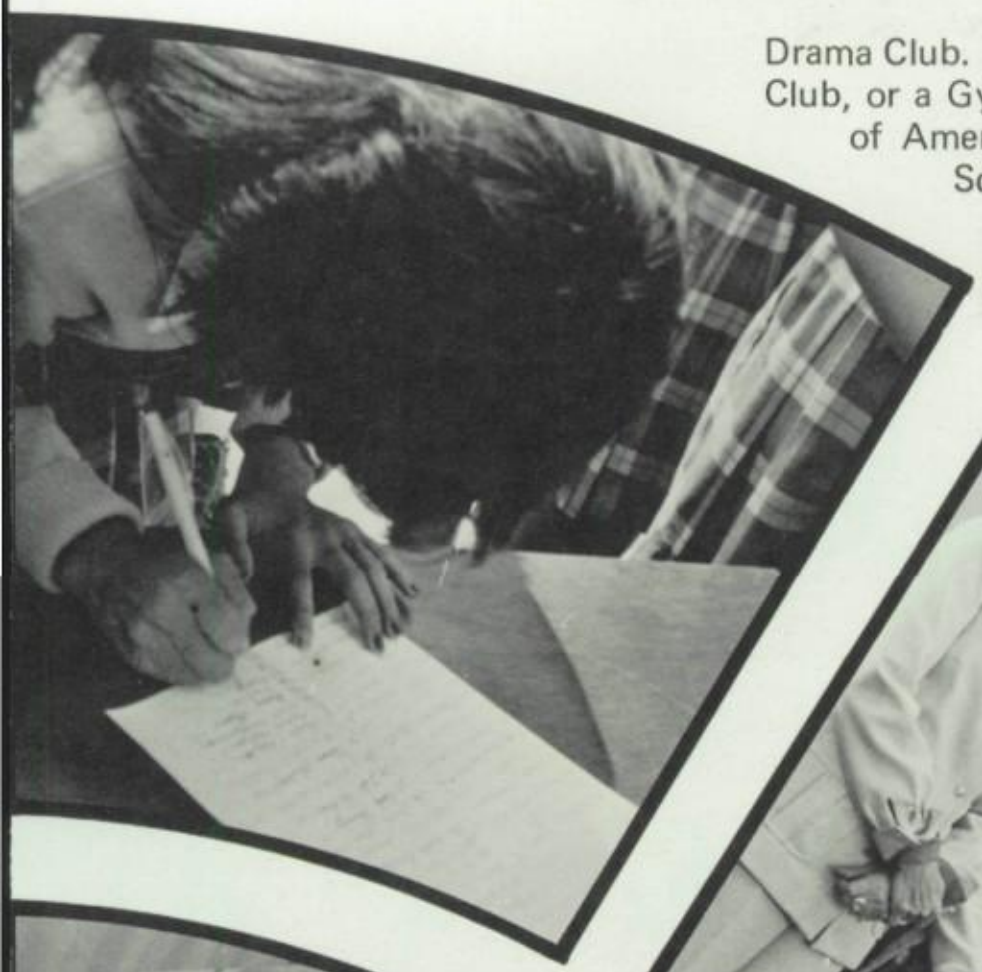
It's 11:45 AM, and you're all ready to hit the sack. Boy, what an armpit day this has been: your face died, you flunked a blood test, your best friend bit you, and to top it off, your mother packed you a cold broccoli and raisin sandwich. YUCK! You ask yourself – How you can possibly go on? You feel yourself sinking fast, and suddenly, hope springs anew! You remember that you have a French Club meeting! Alleluia! Yes, our clubs and organizations have often been the salvation for many worn-out girls. Besides saving students from total desolation, clubs and organizations provide hours of enjoyment. There are different clubs to choose from at SJ. For those who speak in forked tongues or just like to babble incoherently, there are the French, Spanish, or German Clubs. For hams who have never been cured, there is





HAVING FUN!

Drama Club. For the Athletic members of the student body, there is a Skiing Club, or a Gymnastic Club for munchkin athletes. The future mad scientists of America meet and plan diabolical deeds under the disguise of the Science Club. And for the more "sophisticated" members of the school, there is the Music Club (members can blow their own horns) or the Library Club (learn to read between the lines). The main organizations on campus look like an alphabet soup gone mad, since they all go by their initials. The Y.O.M. or Youth On the Move, the C.S.F., or California Scholarship Federation, and the G.A.A. or Girls Athletic Association. Every year there are more new and exciting clubs as we try to keep up with the different interests of the students here at St. Joseph's.



For those of you into m

I bet you thought that this section would be all about tran scendental meditation, Hare Krishnas, or EST. Wrongo, people This section deals with the Y.O.M., alias Youth On the Move

This is your "all around do everything" club. Besides support ing various Christian activities such as collecting for the Mission the Y.O.M.ers sponsor various social events like dances, th Christmas Fair, and food sales. The Y.O.M. consistently help the young people who find their way to the Los Padrinos Cou rectional Institute, by donating foods, Christmas cards, clothing and money. The Y.O.M. also sponsors the ever-popular Christma Fair. It is this event which gives students the chance to buy hand-made gifts for friends. This group doesn't seek the limelight, but achieves a great deal.

1. In a rare moment Youth On the Move stands still on sign-up day.
2. Members of Y.O.M. are standing L. to R: Lisa Testa, Moderator –Miss Galier, Vicki McTiernan, Maureen Perrah, Vivian Morris. Kneeling L. to R: Nancy El Bogdadi, Chris Barber and Yvonne Enriquez.
3. Chris Barber's motto is: "Let me entertain you. Let me make you smile!" Chris isn't quite Ginger Rodgers, but her friends enjoy her.
4. Give these girls a big hand. They've got all the arms they need.

1. Actung! Get in line, fraulines! It's time for the German Club picture. The Club is well known for their services and Gummie Bear sales.
2. Yes, German Club members do eat burritos. Strudel does get boring.
3. Everybody loves the French Club not because of its keen members or its lilting language. People just love those "delish" pastry sales.
4. Mary indulges in her favorite pastime: gorging on a French pastry.
5. Miss Snowden takes a break from the rigors of being tri-lingual.

Leftovers

1. These Spanish Club members collect money for a Club dance, but not a Mexican Hat dance

2. This seemingly endless sea of faces is really the Spanish Club. These girls are truly Spanish speakers. The photographer had to say "queso" instead of "cheese" so that these chicas would know when to smile. But then Spanish Club members are always smiling.

The Language Barrier

DON'T DRINK THE WATER!

1. The Spanish Club entertained the parents with authentic folkloric dancing. Spanish Ginger Rodgers every last one of them.
2. Pick out the criminal in this line-up. No, guys it's just some of our spanish students (with crooked mugs) at Los Posadas.
3. Little does this inocent child realize that she's signing her life away. Actually, she's quite aware that she's giving her all (and we mean all!!!) to the "ooh la la" French Club!!

etcetera...etcetera...etcetera

You are probably wondering what the Newspaper, Library and Drama clubs have in common, since they are located on the same page. Well, they really don't have anything in common, except that they are all clubs. The Newspaper Club writes the monthly school paper, Jester's Journal. The Library Club offers library-oriented services, and the Drama Club presents plays throughout the year. Viva' le clubs!!

1. No, Miss Ponczocha is not having heart palpitations, although she is often near them, thanks to the pressures of being Student Council moderator. It's "heart"-y work, but Miss P. enjoys it.
2. The 1978-1979 A.S.B. Student Council. From L: Joanie Martin, Publicity Chairperson; Sue Czerwinski, Vice-President; Sarah Moening, President; Dora Lopez, Secretary; Deirdre Liston, Treasurer.
3. Miss Ponczocha does her impression of a V.I.L.P. (Very Important Leaning Post). Miss Ponczocha's shoulder is very versatile. You can lean on it and cry on it. Student council uses it for both.

1. This must be another one of those days. Being on student council isn't fun and games, it's hard work. Without student council we'd be just another school. They're the force keeping us going.
2. They may be smiling on the outside, but we know they're conniving freaks on the inside.
3. Sarah enjoys a little chat now and then.

'TAKE ME TO YOUR LEADERS'

C.S.F. is "A" O.K!

1. Cari and Dani participate in another activity.
2. A happy-looking Carole Bamrick has the honor of being selected class Valedictorian, a fine reward for years of hard work.
3. These two girls have enough brain to out-think a computer. Mary Powers is Salutatorian and Carole Bamrick is the class of '79's numero uno student: the Valedictorian.
4. Mary Powers is the smiling Salutatorian of the Class of '79.
5. The C.S.F. leaves moderator Mrs. Parkins full of surprises.

TAKE MY ACTIVITIES,

Question: "What would St. Joseph's be like without its multitude of activities?" Answer: "Pretty boring." School would be a monotonous round of such dreaded activities as homework, studing, and more homework. A frightening thought, is it not? People have always wanted to be entertained, so activities are nothing new. In Cro-Magnon days, our cavemen pals got their jollies from dinosaur races and an occasional pterodactyl hunt. However, in today's more civilized world, dinosaur races just aren't any fun. Today's sophisticated, "with-it" Jesterite prefers dances, games, Holiday activities, assemblies, Talent Shows, or a food sale (instead of a dinosaur burger). A popular activity at SJHS is the proverbial school dance. However, for some people this activity could be renamed "Sit" or "Stand." Oh well! Whether you enjoy supporting our own great SJHS teams, or like cheering/sneering at Bosco's teams, sporting events can always provide lots of fun. Holiday activities are always a blast, too. About the only holidays that SJHS doesn't make a big deal of are Groundhog's Day and Swazililand Independence Day (we're trying, though). Assemblies are another activity that throws all of the Jesterites together, (whether we want to be or not). Assemblies help you know about (what else?) school activities! The Talent Show allowed people to make total and legitimate fools of themselves. And of course, the ever-popular food sales. Nobody cares what kind of food it is or even if it isn't food. Just eat!! Even if you're a wallflower, an uncoordinated Klutz, anti-holidays, come unassembled, or get gasid indigestion from food, there is sure to be some activity for you at dear SJHS.

PLE-E-E-A-ASE!

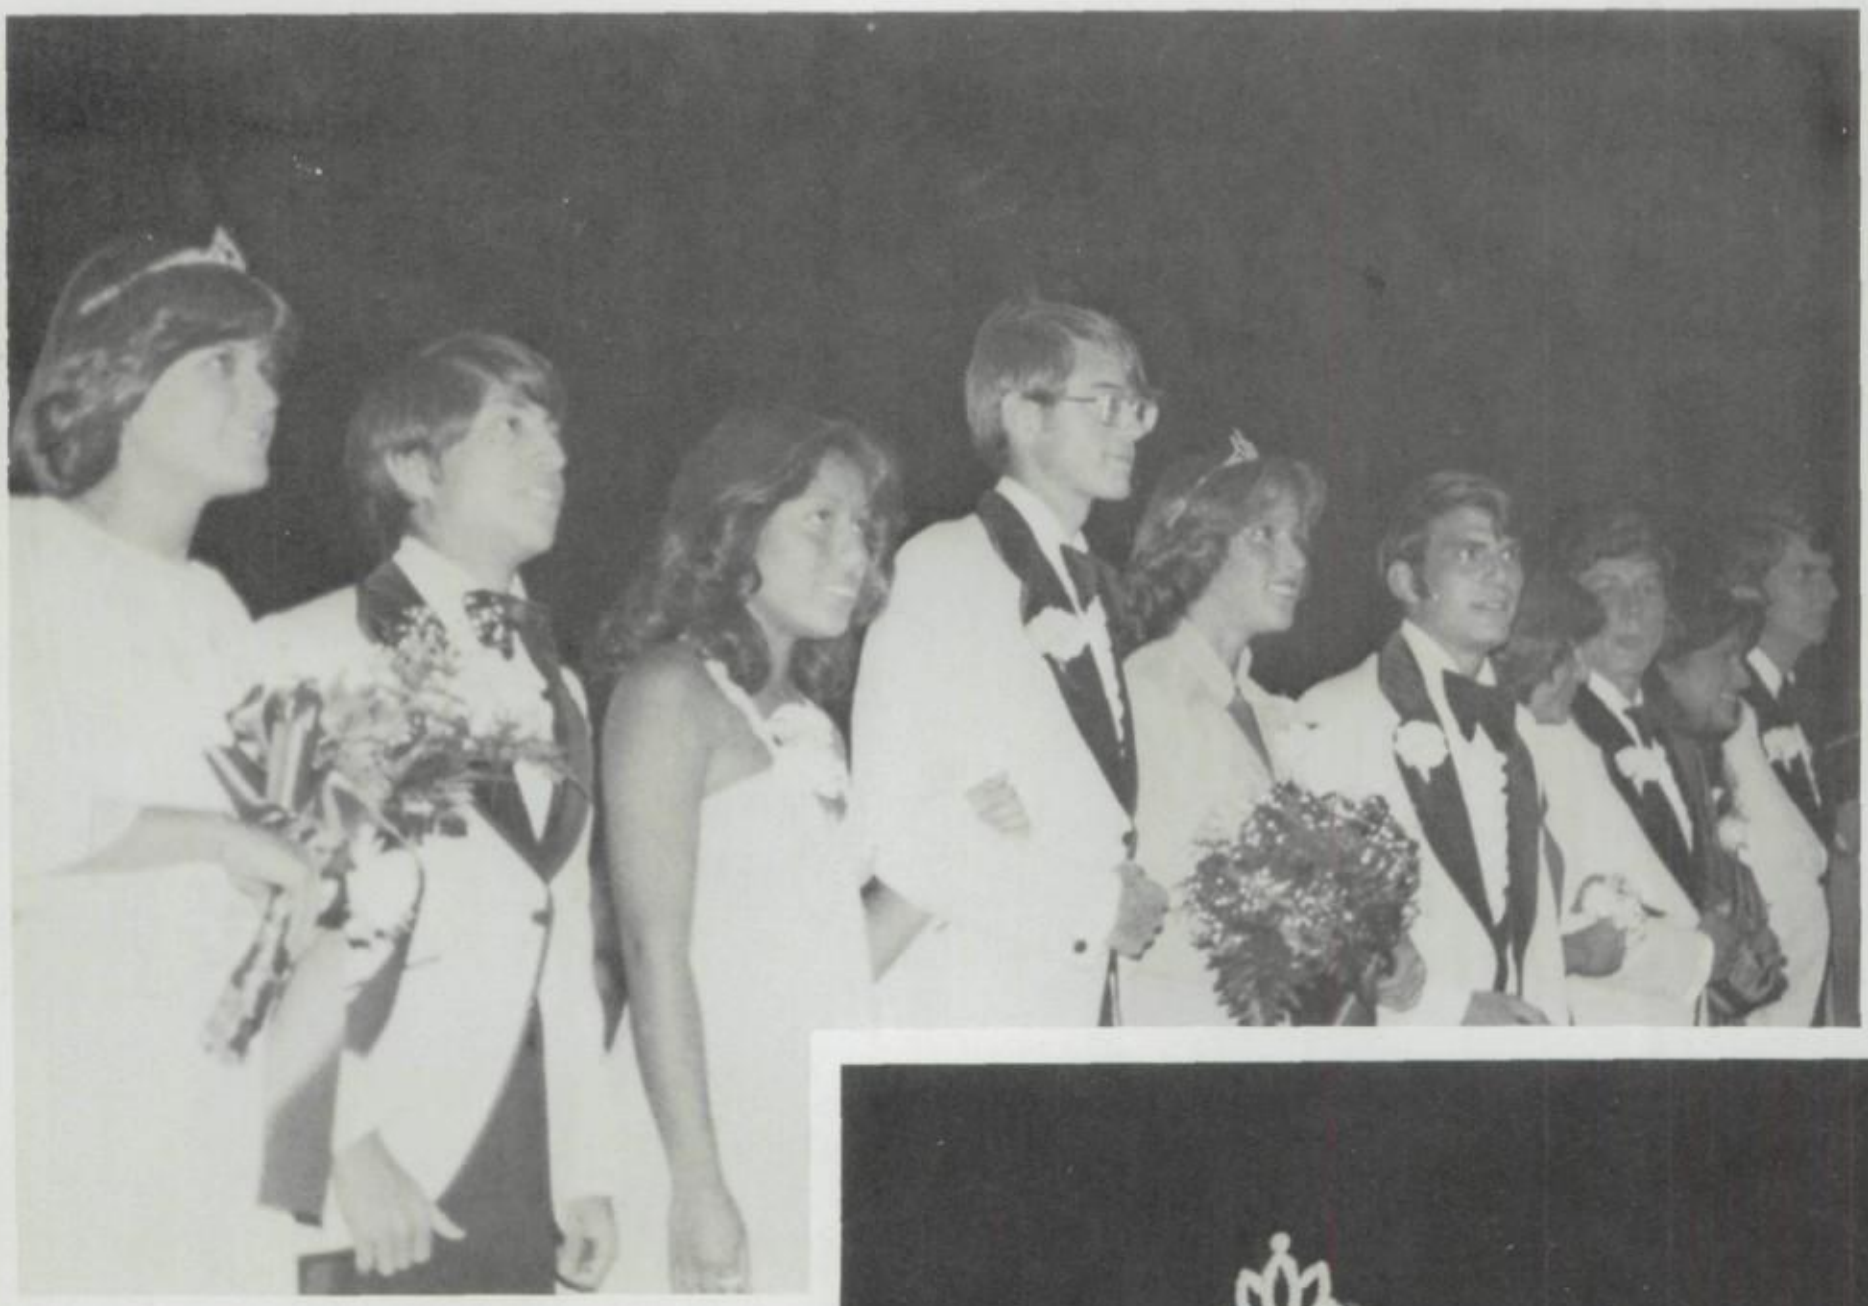
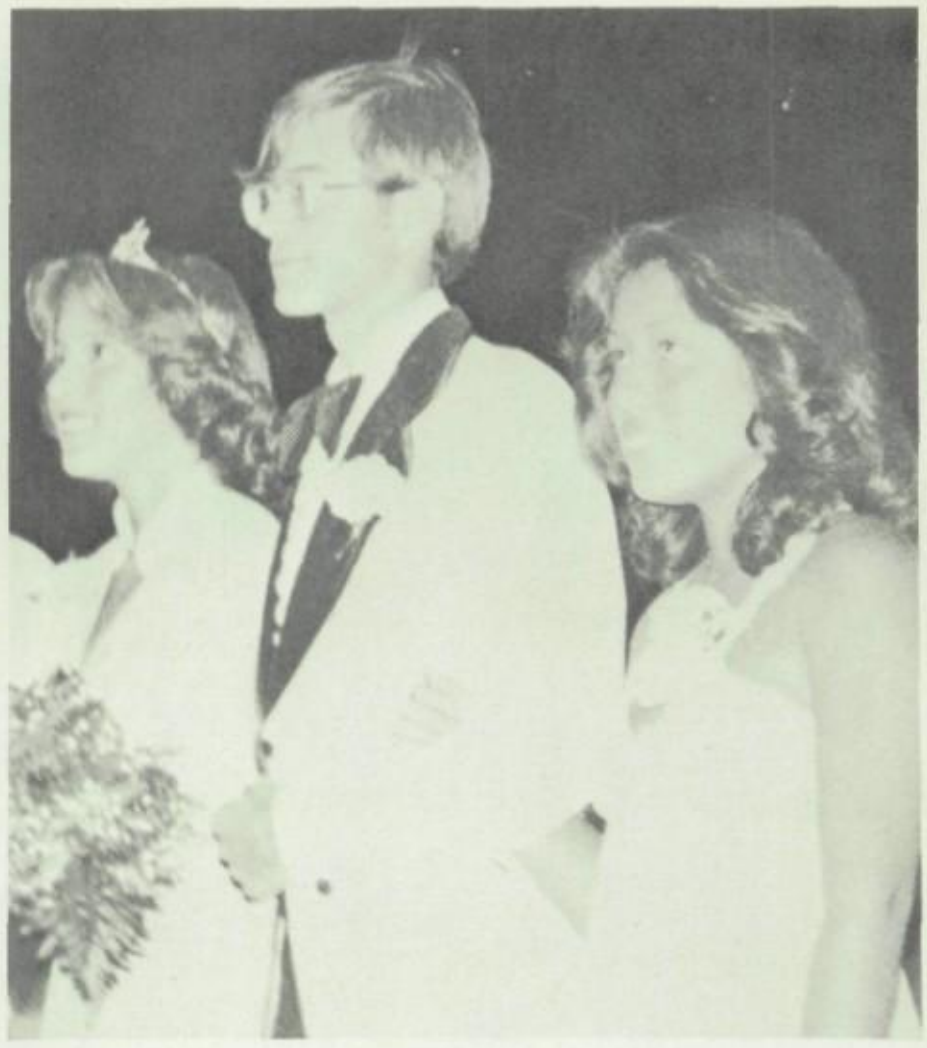
Come Sail Away. . . .



Homecoming . . . What a romantic setting . . . the full moon . . . the lull of the ocean . . . and your date with a dab of Clearasil left on his chin. But who cares? The lights at the Edgewater Hyatt weren't on anyway. It was appropriate that Homecoming '78 was held at an ocean front hotel, since the theme for this year happened to be "Come Sail Away." Everyone had a wonderful time. The beautiful memories of this dreamy night will never fade. But, readers, before this lovely experience, there was the harsh reality of the Football Game: 30° weather, hard, splintery benches, and the champions of what should've been called the "Mud Bowl", the Bosco Braves. Despite these great obstacles, Bosco defeated St. Anthony's 17-7. During Halftime, the moment everyone had been waiting for finnally approached: the crowning of the Homecoming Queen and her Court. The four lovely princesses looked on as Donna Evans was crowned the Queen of 1978, the highlight of the whole season.

1. Number One in our hearts is Senior Princess Laura O'Hair. But of course, seeing that she's the Yearbook editor, we had better like her. (Is this caption good enough for you, Laura?)



2. Rob Boschetto somehow resembles the middle of an Oreo cookie. He's sandwiched by 1977 Homecoming Queen Roberta Noble and Charlene Duarte. Most guys wouldn't mind being in the middle.

3. Junior Princess Annette Breslin and her escort look the picture of happiness during the Homecoming Game. Her only wish: Somebody give me a sweater! It's freezing out here!!!!

4. What can Junior Princess Rene Kuner be thinking of? Maybe she's wishing she could have worn a turtleneck evening gown and her thermal underwear, since her flowers are frozen.

1. St. Anthony's missed the boat and we all sailed away to Homecoming victory. AHOY!
2. The Court rejoices at Donna's coronation.

4. It's hard to believe that underneath all this gook lies the 1978 Homecoming Court.

Celebrating who we are, at this turbulant teenage stage of our life, it's rare to see someone who feels good about themselves and are proud to be who they are. Too often we see people badmouthing themselves and trying to be something they aren't. That's why it's nice to know sometime that at least one person likes us for outselves: GOD. Through readings of the scriptures and meaningful masses, people can gain the inner peace that enables you to accept yourself. People's comments about the mass itself are as varied as can be, "Mass is BORING!" "Mass is interesting." "Why are there so many songs?" "Why aren't there more songs?" True, the details of the Mass do seem to change from one time to the next, but the basic idea of the Mass never changes. It's a celebration of not only Jesus Christ and His suffering, but hopefully of ourselves and our acceptance of one another.

who we are

1. Father Cousineau leads the student body in prayer.
2. Students listen attentively during the Dedication Mass held for the students in our brand new M.P. Building.
3. The Glee Club gives the Mormon Choir and the Johnny Mann singers a run for their money (I hope).
4. A Sophomore religion class meets in the Chapel for a few minutes of quiet inner reflection and some prayer.
5. Sophomore Vivian Morris recieves the Body of Christ.
6. Everybody's favorite Priest, Father Cousineau, once again says Mass. He is a popular figure here at SJHS.

Holidays are Jolly Days...

Remember those good ole days when it was safe for Santa Claus to guide his faithful reindeer through the Friendly Skies without fear of being hijacked? When those faithful reindeer didn't go on strike demanding better working hours (they want Christmas Eve off). What about when a turkey was made of meat, not Soy Bean products? Or when the popular remedy for the mess you got yourself into on New Year's Eve was castor oil instead of the plop, plop, fizz, fizz? Nope, let's face it. Gone are the days of old-fashioned holidays and good clean fun. The holidays have become so commercialized that we tend to forget their actual meaning. But fear not! All is not lost! The true meaning of the Thanksgiving and Christmas seasons are not lost in the hearts of St. Joseph's students. They still know and remember that the main idea behind these holidays is love. Love, and not material things, make up holidays.

5. Laura is tickled pink by the gift Mrs. Mahakian gave her.
6. Mrs. Bruce gives the camera one of her infamous Evil Eyes.
7. Mrs. Parkins shows one of her many talents to the faculty.
8. Is that Curly, Moe and Larry? No, it's Helen, Joan & Becky.

From a WISH to a REALITY. . .

After years of sweating it out in the hot sun during masses and assemblies, and crowding into room 302 when it rained, the long awaited Multi-Purpose Building was finally completed and dedicated by His Eminence, Cardinal Timothy Manning on November 18th. The goal of St. Joseph High has been achieved!

2. Freshmen whoop it up during an assembly.
3. St. John Bosco represents the national average in cheerleaders: 3.5 average guys (clever)!
4. Unmodest Sophomores give themselves a big hand at assembly. (Yeah, but who else would?)
5. Many assemblies provide laughs and semi-fun.
6. Frosh sing their favorite song: the alma mater. Watch for the disco version coming soon.

1. Once upon a time these two girls had some pride and dignity. But they gave it all up for a few brief moments of glory during an assembly. Sheri stripped to her underwear and Tricia exposed her hickies. My, how the mighty have fall, fall, fallen.

2. Won't you all join us all for a hearty na-noo, na-noo! Yes folks, here at St. Joseph's we have our own language, too! One of our most common gestures is the old two-finger salute (as demonstrated here), it's easy with a little practice. These are the masters.

When the OPPOSITION charges...

1. Mary Beth Justus and other seniors wave bye-bye as they leave for a week-end retreat at Camp Maristella. It was a week-end never to be forgotten by those who were present for the festivities.
2. Miss Snowden is dressed in the traditional garb for any snow-bound retreat. That is, to say, don't bring your string bikini! Keep it simple, just bring your long johns, scarf, etc.
3. Can this be a senior? Boy, dig that crazy haircut! No, this is a Sero Pepper's dog that has come to say goodbye.

1. Joanne and Linda reflect the spirit of the Senior retreat.
2. Fr. Mike reads from the Bible for Seniors at Mass.
3. These girls really believe in "Putting on a happy face."

WE RETREAT!

ASSORTED DAYS AND WEEKS

They may have the C.I.A.,

1. Charlotte Hart and Sue Samson join their mothers in a gab-and-eat-fest following the Dedication Mass.
2. Some of the Dedication Mass crowd survey a few of the hall decorations. (Beats looking at a blank wall).
3. Mr. Alpenia, president of the P.F.O., puts his two cents in during his speech at the Dedication.
4. The leaders of the P.F.O. and the guiding force behind the realization of the M.P.B., are (from left): Sally Hammond, Kathleen Schock, Jack Alpenia, and Jackie McCreadie. SJHS thanks them all for their help.

1. The Dedication Mass for the M.P.B. gives these two supporters of the P.F.O. something to sing about.
2. P.F.O. hot dogs go like hotcakes as the hungry masses of St. Joseph's High prepare to attack them.
3. P.F.O. mothers suffer through the "Paper Chase".
4. Although the students and faculty look semi-disgruntled all are glad that M.P.B. dream has come true.

But WE'VE got the P.F.O.!

1. Dierdre Liston presents the ham of the century awards.
2. During the talent show we were given a little flavor of Hawaii In a sense we were, "Here today, gone to Maui." Aloha!
3. Sue Czerwinski is a real pro at her work; she's a master.
4. "It may not be the Oscar, but it'll do," says Margaret!

When it comes to TALENT...

Joseph's has it all!

. Our ever-glamorous faculty rocks out on stage. Travolta, look out!
. The faculty wasn't content with just one song on stage, so they came back for an encore. Let's face it, some hams aren't ever cured.
. The Koprowski sisters tap-danced their way into everybody's hearts, (and into third place). Margaret and Chris are in tip "tap" shape.
. Chris and Debbie Barber crooned a sisterly duet at the Talent Show.
. Rachel Gomez puts her hand out for a hand from the audience or from anybody. Rachel was one of the terrifically talented acts.

WE BLEED

Up until a few years ago, people had a set stereotype of women athletes. They thought girl athletes were hairy-legged jocks with massive bulging biceps and triceps. Society considered an athletic woman as some kind of sub-female who was on the same level as Bruno the truck driver or Fuji the Samurai wrestler. Sad, isn't it? Of course, we know that women athletes aren't female Godzillas (right?). Today, women athletes are accepted and admired. People like Chris Evert, Sheila Young, Dorothy Hammill and Shirley Babashoff are respected and noted as outstanding athletes. I mean, nobody ever says that Chris Evert isn't a lady or is Ms. Muscularity. Naturally, here at St. Joseph's women athletes are nothing new. Throughout the years our school has helped develop many fine athletes. The Jesters are well known throughout Southern California for excellent teams in volleyball. basketball, tennis, softball, drill, cheer and song. All these squads consistently place well in the C.I.F. and many tournaments and competitions in which they participate. Volleyball is one of the most popular sports here at SJHS. Our varsity and junior varsity teams are out there every day bumping their little arms off on the rocky road to success. Also the volleyball teams sponsor a yearly grammar school volleyball tournament here at SJHS. And although some people consider dribbling crude, our basketball teams are dribblers cum laude. Tennis is the tennis team's racket, and they always try to stay on the ball. The softball team isn't just a bunch of swingers, they hit people, too. And, of course, our award winning cheerleaders and song and drill teams, Rah! Rah! Rah!

JESTER ORANGE

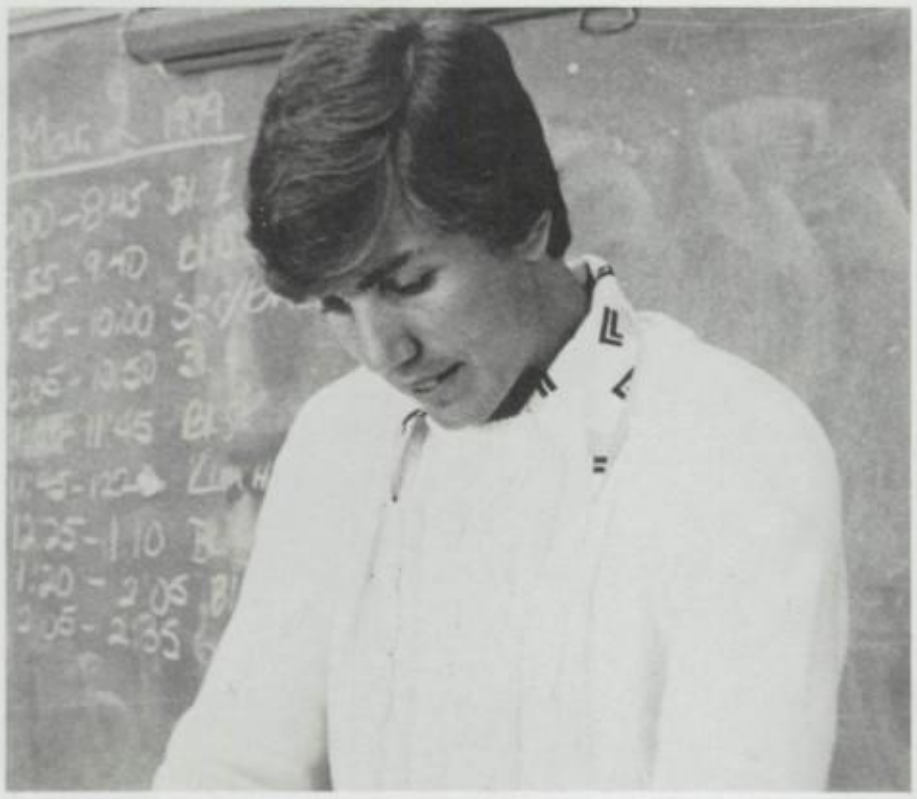
The Coaches with the Mostest!



Change has even wangled into our sports departmen and the G.A.A. Say hello to some of the new fresh face that now line the walls of the locker room. (Haven' you heard of Mr. Manarino wallpaper?). Mr. Manarino has the role of SJHS Athletic Director and Coach. Othe coaches include Mr. Vranau, who moonlights as a his tory teacher, and "health"-y Miss Richards. They work in conjunction with the G.A.A., whose officers are: C Gomez, Pres.; C. Pope, V.P.; L. Schorr, Sec.; G. Alpenia Treas.; and K. Jondle, Soph. Rep.

GAA officers: C. Gomez, Pres.; Mr. Manarino, Mod.; C. Pope, V. Pres.; L. Schorr, Treas.; A. Alpenia. Sec.; K. Jondle, Soph. Rep.; hardworking and good doing. Steph Alpenia is a valuable member of the Joseph's volleyball team. She is a strong GAA supporter.
Letterman Club officers: D. Noble, S. Alpenia, M. Hendrickson, P. Burke, E. Maguite, A. Alpenia. They are only a few representatives of the many lettermen. GAA is a high spirited organization. They are the source of many assemblies. Here Linda Schorr, as a naive little freshman, seeks advice from Charlene. The GAA functions as an active organization on campus.

3. No. 20 sure is a greedy little person. Susan Edrich would gladly hand the ball over if she'd just say "please."
4. Besides being proficient at basketball, the J.V. team also likes to play a mean game of Ring Around the Rosie.
5. The J.V. Basketball Team got the jump on their competition this year. The Jesters played terrifically and did well in competitions, thanks to talent and teamwork.

1. As Rene Kuner flies a fast one over the plate, shortstop Lisa Hanzen and third base "person" Linda Matthews hold a fast caucus. Linda doesn't look too happy, it must be a "good" game.

3. As Cathy Fernandez heads for the plate to score for the Jesters, Linda Matthews throws the bat (!) and heads for first base.
4. St. Joseph had a very good season, and much of their success can be attributed to the efforts of the team's Marys. This one, Niklas, (as opposed to Manarino) boosted SJ's score!
5. L. to R. – Mr. Vranau, T. Hunter, B. Guzy, A. Battistone, T. Spellman, M. Farrell, B. Diserio, L. Spellman. B. Mendoza, G. Mizwin, C. Crofut, M. McElrea, A. Lucie, C. McDermott, J. Van Haaster, C. Neri and (not pictured) K. Wohlford. (J. V. Team).

4. "Batter-up!", says Denise Bahan and "Teammates." They know one thing for sure: No matter what, they're a hit!

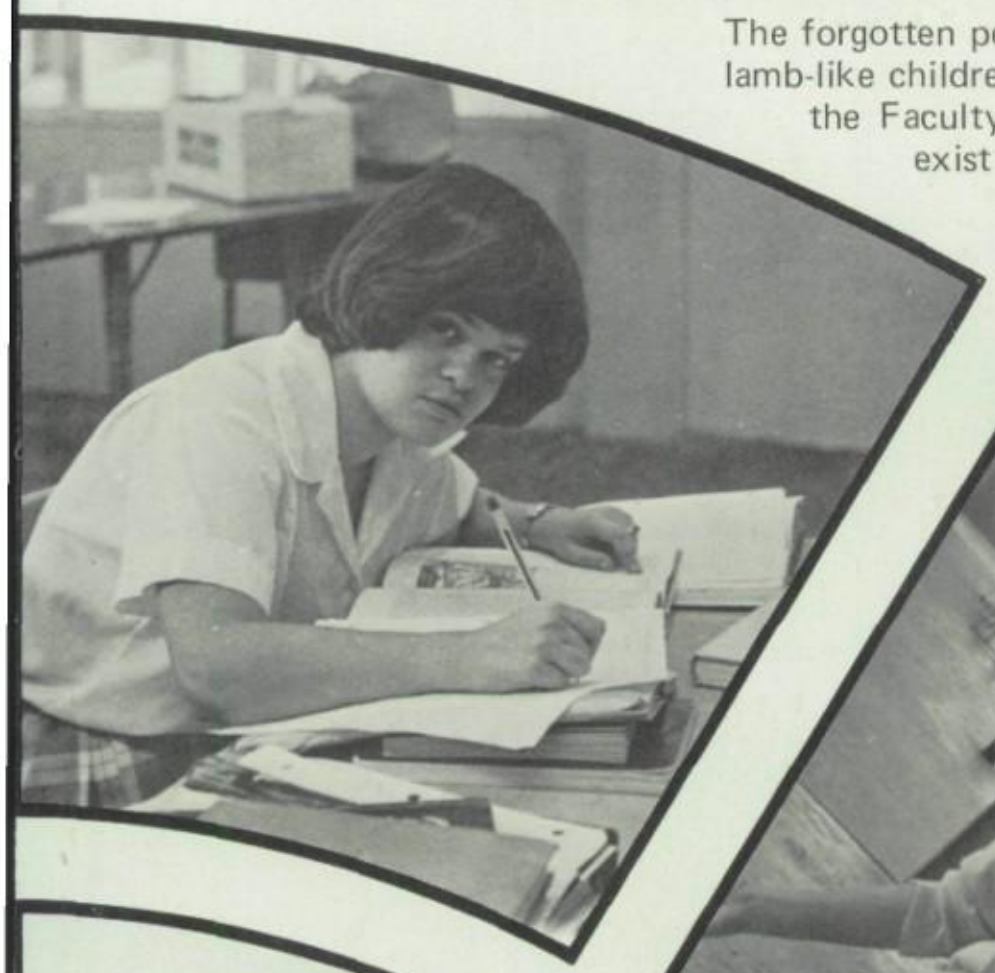
t. Joseph has its own set of Little Tin Soldiers. They aren't painted, don't arry weapons, and they aren't made of metal. But they move together as xactly as wind-up tin soldiers. Yes, it's the Drill Team! At first glance, rill seems to be a blast. You know, performing at half time, funny-look- g costumes, etc. But Drill requires hours of practice and a lot of imagin- tion to invent new routines (after all, they don't come with wind-up keys their backs). However, they do manage a "few" breaks at Van's Dairy. rill usually does well in the many competitions they enter yearly, usually lacing in the top three spots. Another favorite Drill activity is Class Com- etition, where the Sophs, Junior, Senior members battle it out (legally). his year, the Seniors won the class "series" by performing to "Take Me ut to the Ball Game."

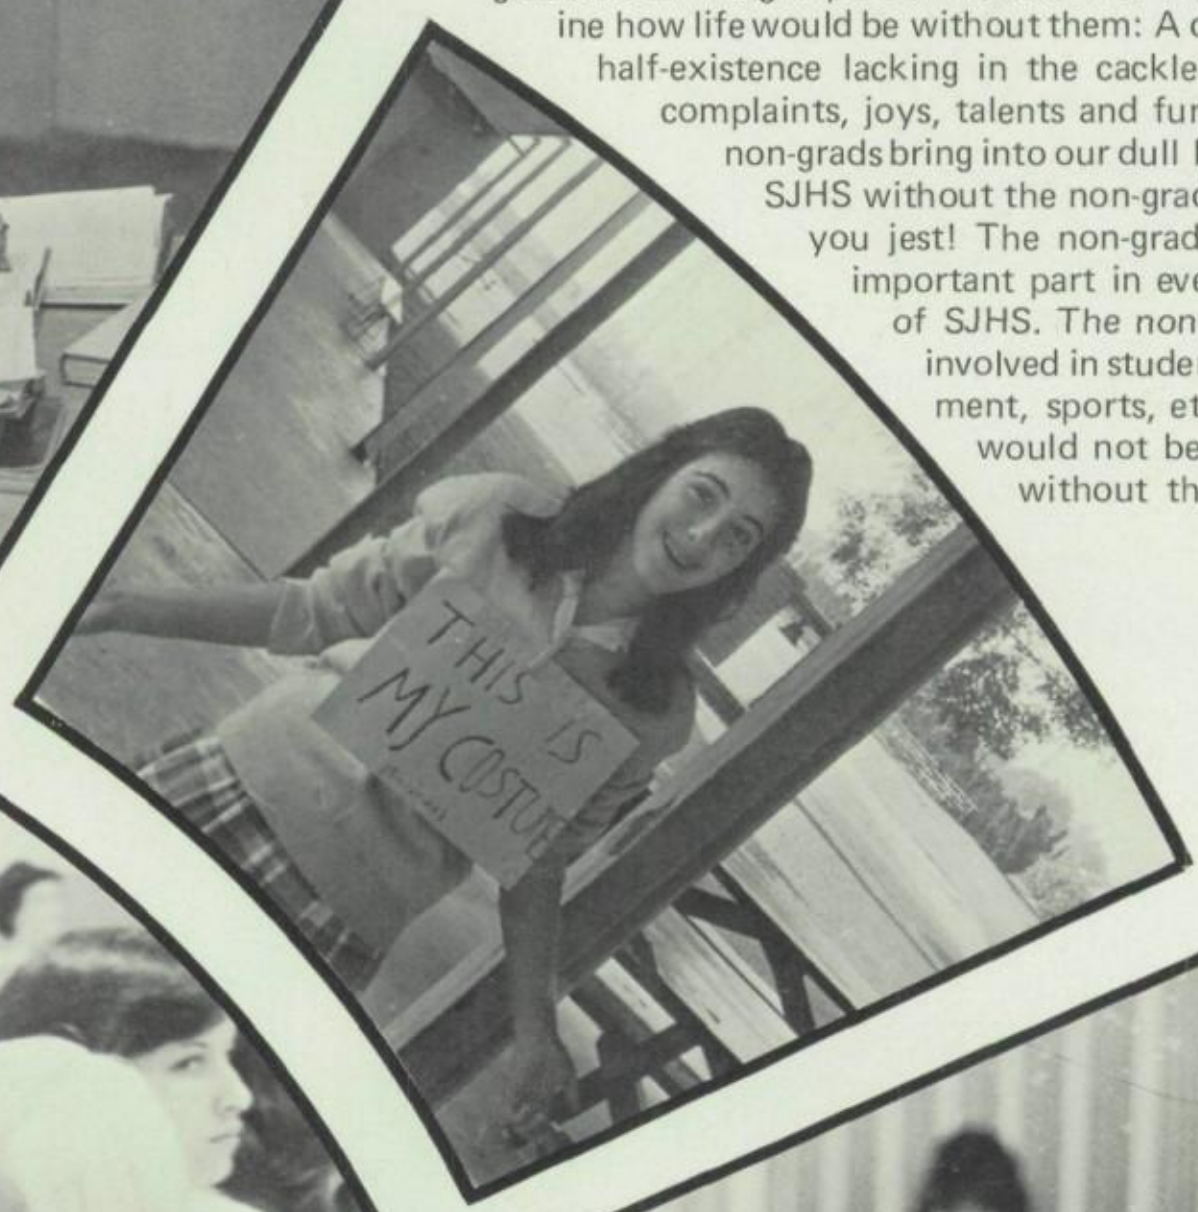
WOW! WE'RE

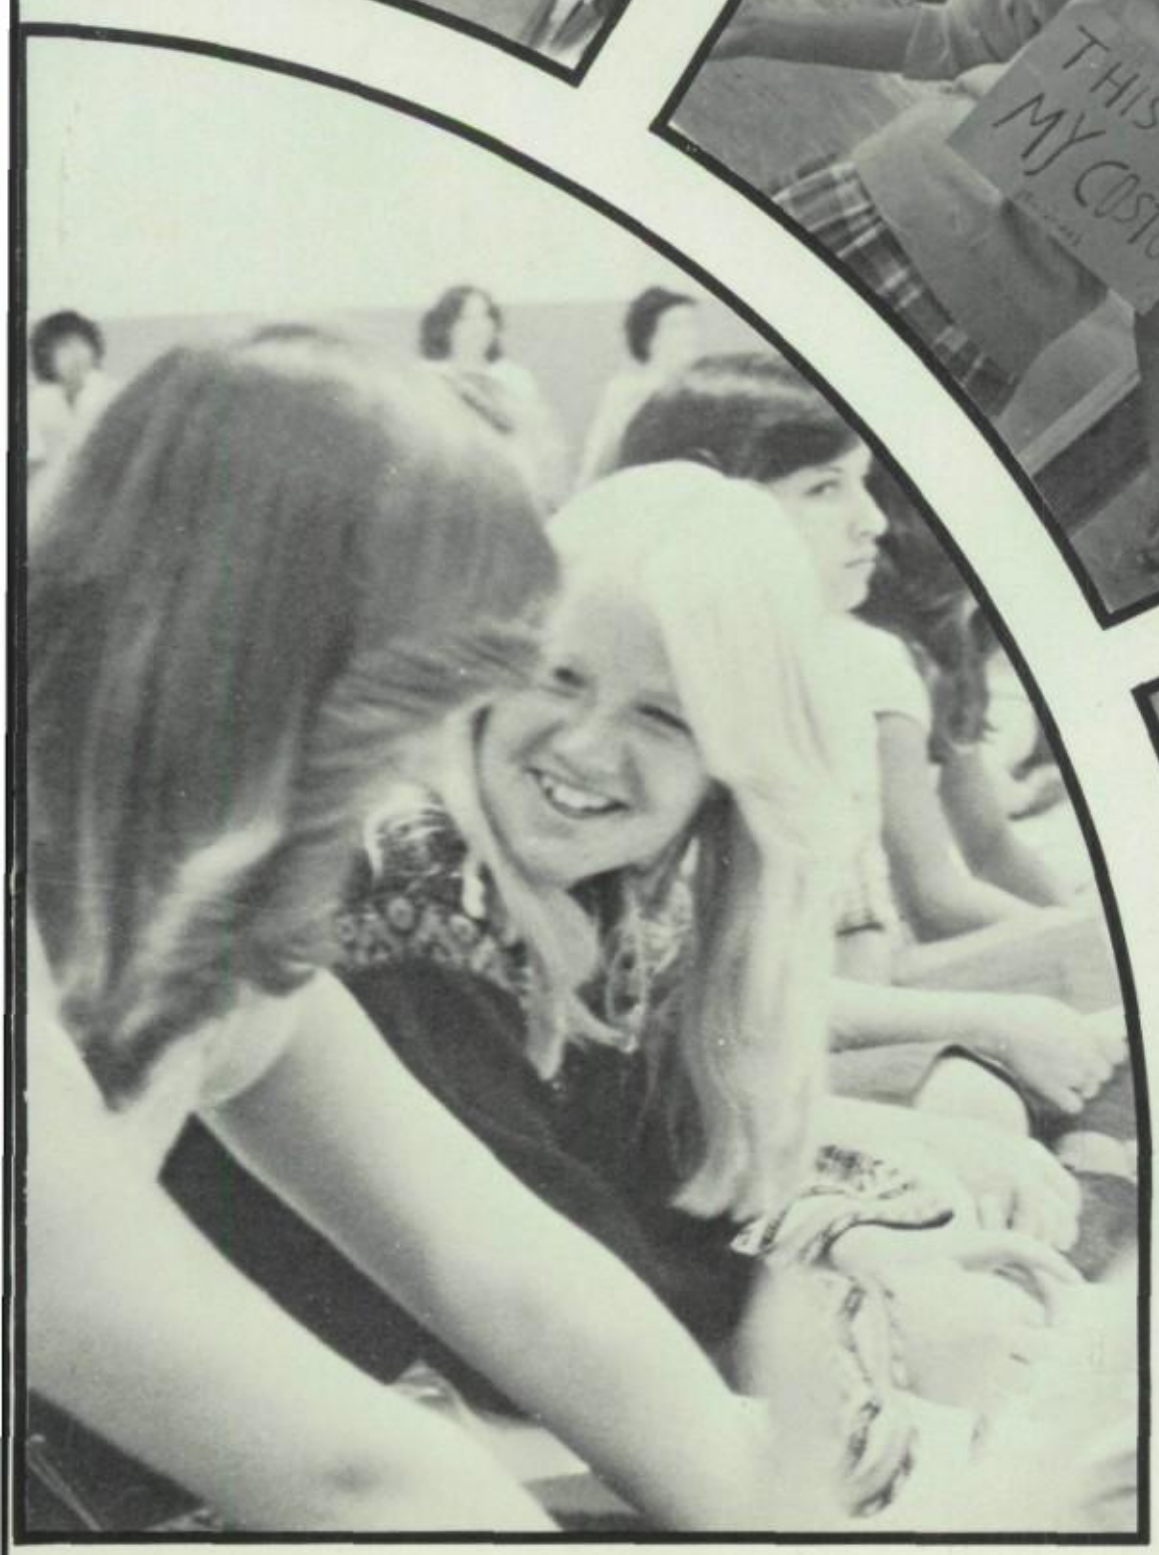
A riddle for you, faithful reader: What comes in three different sizes, is bigger than a breadbox and is found only in Lakewood? Give up? Why it's a non-grad at St. Joseph's (Did you get it right on your first guess? Of course you did!!). Yes, the non-grads; those happy-faced, ever smiling schoolgirls who make up the Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior classes here at SJHS. It might seem as though throughout the year, our little non-grads are overshadowed by the seniors. But, this is not always true. The non-grads are involved in every single school activity and are known to leave their marks, especially at school assemblies. (You know, trash all over the schoolgrounds, broken-down benches, etc.) Despite the many differences of the non-grads, they have one thing in common: Getting out! (just kidding!).

MOVING ON UP!

The forgotten people of a school are often the non-grads. Yes, these inocent, lamb-like children are often shoved out of the spotlight by the Seniors and the Faculty. But fortunately at SJHS, this problem does not seem to exist (well, not too much anyway). However, these much-abused waifs somehow manage to leave their mark at school (and we do not mean gum on the desk bottoms). The non-grads are an integral part of life at SJHS. Try to imagine how life would be without them: A depressing half-existence lacking in the cackles, shrieks, complaints, joys, talents and fun that the non-grads bring into our dull little lives. SJHS without the non-grads? Surely you jest! The non-grads play an important part in every aspect of SJHS. The non-grads are involved in student government, sports, etc. and SJ would not be the same without them.







Freshmen are involved in many aspects of life at St. Joseph's. During school hours they brave initiation — after hours they support athletics.

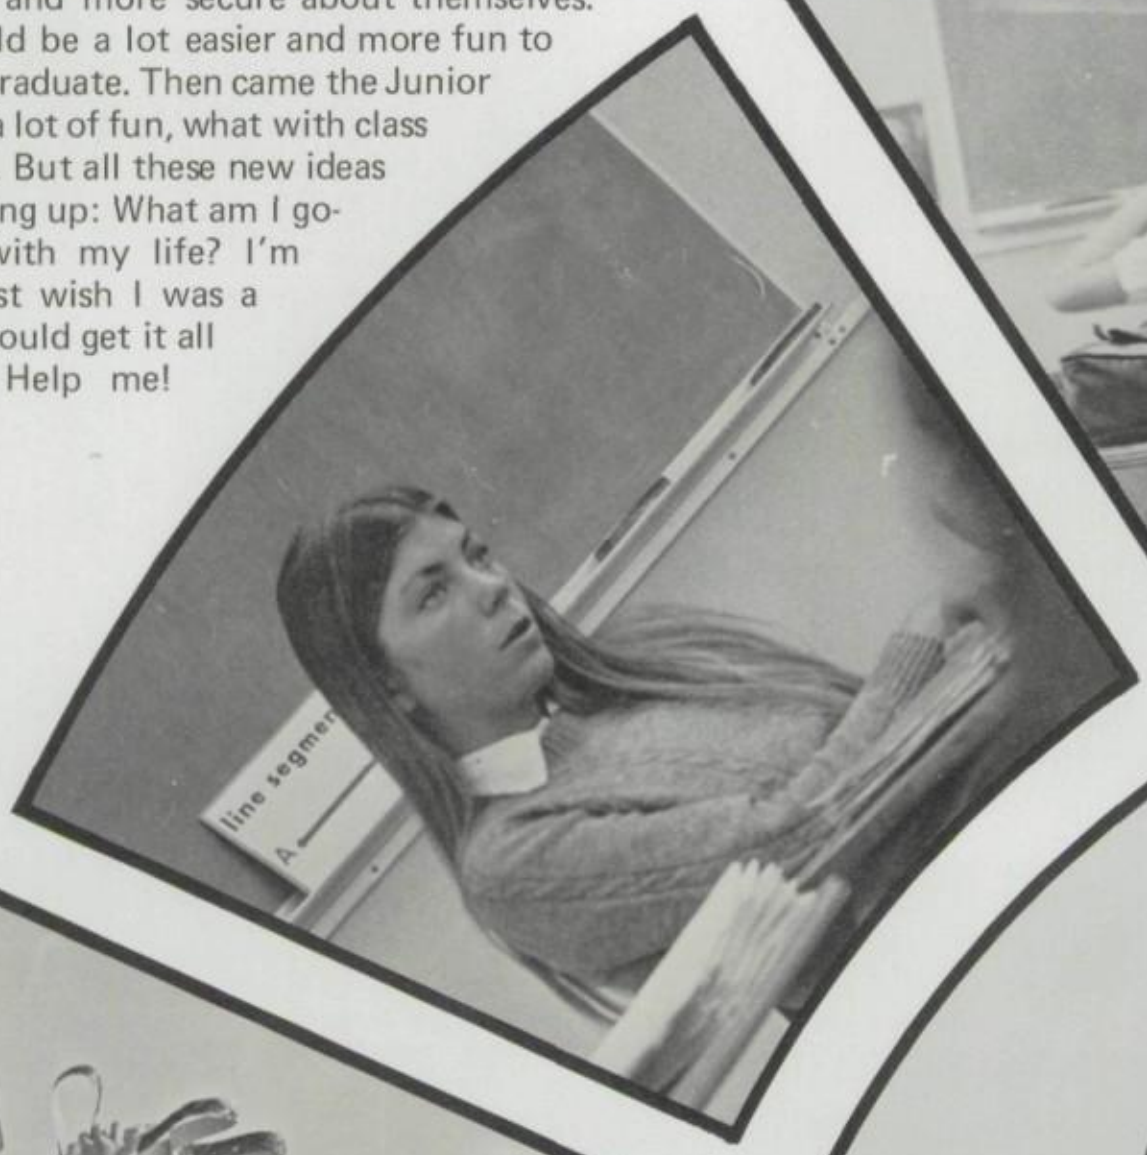
year's juniors enter the next chapter as "Seniors". . .

THE MOMENT

It's hard to believe sometimes how much a person can change in four short years. It was only four years ago that our class of 1979 first entered St. Joseph High. Like most freshmen, they were half scared and half wondering why they even came here in the first place. Everything was weird and different. A lot of the time all they wanted to think about was being a Senior and being able to graduate. Sophomore year was a lot better. They knew the campus inside and out, They grew closer in friendships and began to feel a little better and more secure about themselves. Still, it would be a lot easier and more fun to be a Senior graduate. Then came the Junior year. It was a lot of fun, what with class rings and all. But all these new ideas began popping up: What am I going to do with my life? I'm scared! I just wish I was a Senior and could get it all over with. Help me!



OF CHANGE...

Sometimes it seems as though High School students hardly pay any attention to their early school years. All students can think about is getting out of school and becoming a Senior! Yes, becoming a Senior is definitely the high point of the four years spent here at SJHS. After all, Seniors have off-campus lunch, Powder Puff, retreats, Prom, Grad Night, etc. and of course, graduation. Now, wouldn't all those terrific privileges and Graduation to boot make anybody happy? Then how come there are so many confused and upset Seniors? The answer is very simple: For Seniors, this is a year of changes. The Seniors are leaving the safe, secure world of children and moving on to the challenging and unsure world of adults. College campuses, career opportunities, marriage, and new families await them, and we at SJHS say good-bye – good luck.

Senior/Frosh Sisters is an important and fun event for all seniors. It gives them a chance to get to know their future successors and to spread some of the knowledge (?) they've acquired over the years. The JONGLEUR'S editor, Laura O'Hair, and her "sis", Theresa Battaglia, are one of the various groups that enjoyed a terrific lunch during initiation week in September.

Frosh—'n—JV cheer, our gang, parties, ski, breakwater, MDSAD, Coke:Burp, WC, Mead, Catalina, "1," Mazerotti 2 Tahoe. It all happened with CAT, ILU, Ghiab. Thanks Mom—n—Dad IWALY, See U, Goodbye!

Hold fast to thy dreams...

For seniors, there are many moments of change and even more dreams. Somehow though, in June of the senior year, everything mounts and becomes even more special. The changes which have occured over the years continue, dreams evolve to new dreams or are replaced by them. Don't forget them, just move on . . .

LIVE FOR EVERY MOMENT...

Some people say that nothing is permanent except change, and at St. Joseph's this is so often true. Those MEN on campus are valuable additions to our faculty and the monstrosity of four orange and white (beige) walls which we saw grow before our very eyes is a building which provides unity (not to mention warmth) to SJHS students' lives on campus. We are now embarking on the true end of the 1970's, (whether we like it or not: READY?) the so-called "Me" generation has been that of the '70's. Have we of St. Joseph's been a part of this self-centered time? We think not. Although SJHS did go Disco (to an extent), perms were common enough to curl your hair, Superman will always be Super and the legalization of tennis shoes on campus gave NIKE more business than they have had in eons. We managed to take all of this in stride and remain the cute, little, cherry-cheeked, innocent, unsuspecting girls of Joseph's tradition. (But wait . . . maybe the '70's did change us!) The children of our decade have learned so much more than their parents ever had the opportunity – for we stand on the threshold of a complete social and technological revolution. This is a time of change, not only for students of SJHS, but for people in every corner of the globe. The class of '79 now has the greatest opportunity to put the knowledge they have acquired to use in the '80's. The other classes follow (of course) close behind, still accumulating experience as everyone must throughtout their lives. We've just begun to understand change, and the fact that it is a lifelong process – for better or for worse, by our choice. For everyone; something to always remember: "The times (and us) are a changin' . . .

THE TIMES ARE FADING FAST

Senior Officer: Charlene Duarte, President; Mary Beth Justus, Vice Pres.; Jamie Koblensky, Secretary; Helga Jimenez, Treasurer; Mrs. Tomberlin, Moderator.

1. Steph's friends try to drown their problems. Namely Steph!
2. Linda's new name is Ima Pepper. But where's Ima Salt? Spicy!
3. These "studious" seniors are nominated for Best Actress.
4. Yearbook will put a gleeful look on anyone's face. Take Laura's for example — her joy cannot be fully expressed.

Get ready world— HERE WE COME!

1. The SEROS are a unique group. Mary Beth Miller stands to show her uniqueness!
2. Sarah and Joanie are out to inflict pain if you don't take part in activities!
3. "If you want my body" WHAT?! Oh, just Fr. Mike quoting a song for the Jan. Grad Mass.
4. Senior togetherness runs high with SEROS.
5. Daphne and Joanne have true SERO spirit.

1. Whether you ski or not, ski jackets were big this year, as proven by five Seros.
2. Sarah Moening, A. S.B. President, is a credit to her class. (and pretty, too!)
3. Cathy McGinn is only one of a long line of girls who pass through the office for this purpose.
4. Senior spirit is plenty — they even wish us peace (they're leaving; we've got it!)

1. Why should Henriette be depressed? Her car just broke down in the parking lot at rush hour during a rain storm, that's all.
2. The altar wasn't the only thing that said good-bye to the January Graduates. All of SJHS wishes the Grads good luck in the future.
3. Sharon Brown's recipe for a deelicious root beer float: 1 gallon ice cream, 1 gallon root beer. Mix well, grab a teaspoon, and enjoy!
4. Look at that devious smirk on Bibian Yasmineh's face. What's that radical got up her sleeve?

Junior officers top to bottom: Miss Keiser, Janet Mazeika, Cyndi Carey, Lisa Boschetto, Annette Breslin.

1. Is this a legal or illegal exchange of money? Only Karen and Linda know for sure.
2. They're coming to take us away! Ha, Ha!
3. Junior Julia joyfully jongulates for Joseph's "Jongleur". (Say that 7 times fast!)
4. Yes, Cathy Ramirez always looks that way.
5. Psychology class in some forms of action.
6. These rugged individuals are the survivors (and cleaner-uppers) of that colossal catastrope: The Great Yearbook Flood, Pt. 2!

AT THE TOP OF THE LADDER

1. The Blue Collared Juniors nervously watch the Seniors' routine. The competition was stiff, but all did a fantastic job.
2. Deirdre, ever-smiling friendly face on campus, takes advantage of a few spare moments to relax comfortably on her books.
3. Annette Breslin and Dora Arango ponder some highly advanced problems. I wonder if they could give me some legal advice.
4. Who is this? The Frito-bandito of the supernatural? Nope. It's only Martha Barraza – better known as the Colombian ghost.

1. Over the teeth, past the gums, look out stomach here it comes! Keep it slow or you'll need Tums!
2. ASB inactivity in progress. Do Not Disturb!
3. Ah, I long for the good life. I wonder what the peasants are doing down in the classrooms. KNAVES!
4. Lines to Twin Palms Sanitarium form to the right. First 20 people in line get 2 free shock treatments.

MOVIN' ON UP IN SOCIETY

1. Lions and Tigers and Bernies! Oh my! Bernie Mendoza lets out a cowardly lion cry during the Halloween Day Festivities.
2. Anne Brazelton gives a backward glance as she parades around during Halloween. Boy, a mask like that would scare anyone.
3. Sophomore President Charlotte Hart has every reason to smile. She was nominated by SJHS as the Outstanding Sophomore for the Hugh O'Brian Leadership Foundation Award.
4. These sophomores just got "back" (get it?) from the front (of the room that is).
5. Join-A-Club day makes Hilda smile while Sue winces in pain. C'mon Sue, joining a club doesn't hurt that much.
6. At least Kathy Libby's hat gets the point during her Photography I class.
7. Antoinetta and Dana can't wait for their ride.
8. An example of real Kodakisis Freakimitis: These poor souls freak out whenever they see a Kodak camera.

1. Lanette and Mary take out the trash, in this case, Ger
2. We have absolutely no idea why this photo is in her
3. Only because of brute (office) force is Carol smilin
4. In Tony's absence, Carla snuggles up to a streetligh
5. We keep 'em locked in here, even if it is just 'til '8

1. As you can tell from this picture, there's really no question as to why Sophs continually win Spirit Sticks.
2. Bernie Bryson tries to look brooding and cognitive. It's really very hard to do, but practice makes perfect.
3. Psssst! Wanna be really vogue? Run down to the local Salvation Army and buy a pair of tacky cat's eye glasses.
4. Another in a series of camera-happy sophomores who lose all control when they come within 2 feet of a Kodak.
5. We yearbook photographers pride ourselves on our ability to catch people at their most flattering angles.

We're not the BABIES anymore!

1. The Mother-Daughter Luncheon helped bridge the generation gap and gave them a chance to bid in an auction.
2. Well, shut my mouth, says Jill Moreaux to the camera.
3, 4, 5. Nothing goes by quite so fast in your life as your Freshman year (except possibly your sophomore, junior, and senior years). But nothing else is quite like it.
6. When you can't go to the islands make the islands come to you. That is exactly what the Freshmen did this year.
7. Do these frosh take authentic hula lessons? Could be!
8. Some of the many things you learn in your freshman year are the joys of the Media Center.

Freshman Class Officers from L: T. Shew, Treas.; C. Crofut, Pres.; T. Mendoza, Moderator; B. Guzy, Sec.; A. Battistone, Vice Pres.

1. Caught in the act? No? You sure look guilty for someone so blase'.
2. Yahoo Yippity! Get along there doggies. Round up them Freshmen.
3. Those Frosh cheerleaders are at it again. Peter Pan would love you.
4. Freshmen in the media center usually abound in goodness (only when Mrs. Whitwell is watching) SNEEKS!
5. Look! Future seamstresses at work.

1. Elisa Nieto and Edie Caceres work diligently in Ethics. Of course, mistakes do happen: Thank goodness for Liquid Paper.
2. Mia Hines, Reyann Contreas, and Chris Hohman seem to find Algebra I's polynomials and coefficients extremely amusing.
3. Still trying to find the right combination of chemicals, Dee Dee Rancour and Barbie Schorr seek a formula for an "accidental" explosion which would wipe out St. Joseph High!!
4. Yes, freshmen have whole faces, but only during a full moon.

SCADS AND

Usually when people receive their yearbooks, they don't automatically open them up; race to the ad section and scream jubilantly when they see their ad. "Look, Blanche, look! They spelled the name right: Blxymptzq Alphabet Soup Co. And there's your ad, Blanche! But they spelled "Smith wrong: S-M-H-I-T-Q-Z." Although the ad section is usually pitifully overlooked, without ads the yearbook would not exist. All we'd have would be some stapled greasy napkins from the local truck stop with a cardboard cover that says, "Write Your Own Yearbook" and a few penciled in stick-figure mug shots of pals. All for the low price of 2¢. Buy now (?).

Now,don't you feel like a total heel for ignoring the ad section for so long? That's right, person, hang your head in shame! For a penance read the ad section TWELVE (12) times (sack cloth and ash are optional).

SCADS OF ADS

From time to time however, one does manage to find someone looking through the ads in search of his/her own personal message, a collage of initials, nutty nicknames and other garbled gibberish that only the person can understand. (So what, it's money). However while everyone admires the clever art work the staff does on the ads, they rarely appreciate the chance to sell them. We, on the staff, often hear the horror stories of broken noses from slamming doors, shoes left crammed in doors around the neighborhood, students plagued by the old cliche excuses: "Oh, I'm on a diet." (Wait a minute—an AD diet?) Luckily, the ever faithful Jesterites don't get discouraged and most finally end up with come kind of ad. But seriously, we on the staff sincerely appreciate all the work done by the sellers because without them there would be no yearbook.

THE GAME OF FRIENDS -

"Friendship." We hear that word so many times each day that it's enough to make you HATE it! Yet, it has a very special meaning for all of us. Like, for instance – Friendship is used to sell diapers, margarine, peanut butter, Tang, and even antiperspirant! Those commercials would not be the same without those "friend"-ly women chitchating about their daughter's latest diaper change. "Look Sal! I just happen to have this vial of purple liquid in my purse, to show you how truly absorbent these new pampers are." We all know that the pampers now save the day, by aerodynamically retaining the purple stuff. The women give each other "friendly" smiles and know that because of this happy day their friendship has been permanently sealed. Even though a diaper may not cement a friendship, there are always some certain events which bring two people closer together. So many different things add to and make a friendship! Joy, sharing, growing, but sometimes also pain and/or fear. We've all had friends. We all need friends. We all want friends! Even songs have recorded the importance of friendship in human life: "You've got a Friend," (whether you want one or not!) "Friendship, Friendship, Just a a Perfect Blendship", "Whenever I Call You, Friend," (You'd better answer!); "My Friend Ben,"; "Friends I Will Remember You,"; and also "You're My Best Friend," (remember that one?). These songs reflect the feelings of teenagers across the nation – and not only teenagers, but people of all ages. And so, in the not-so make-believe Friends Game, we try to trace these feelings of ours regarding "Friendliness."

THE BEST PART OF THE GAME OF LIFE

Teachers take out all their pent-up frustrations on you. You're 5 to 10 seconds late in 3 classes, get detention. Die in the process of cleaning a desk as you realize you're missing your favorite show, the 11 o'clock news!

No, I didn't stuff Linda in the trashcan! After all, she's my best friend! (Anyway, she likes to eat trash?!)

friends

The only person who asks you to dance at the Spring Fling is a 3-Foot Midget. (Nice, but you're 5 foot 9!)

You coughed continually during class. The teacher suggests that perhaps you should get a drink of water . . . after all "what's your problem?"

Your answer: The Plague.

The girls won another game! Go to the locker room to congratulate the team! Join the brawl for 10 excruciating minutes, then be expelled through a closed window. (oooow!)

SURPRISE

Your ex-best friend, Laura, forgot to return your long dress after Prom night. Will ripped Levi's be okay with satin four inch heels?

In This, The Game of Friends –

Friends are golden or at least that's what they tell you. It's easy to wonder when they remind the teacher about that homework you forgot . . .

MAFIA?

Your "nice" friend Anna Maria Italiano generously offers you front row tickets for the Foreignor concert. One condition: Uncle Nunzio's COMING ALONG.

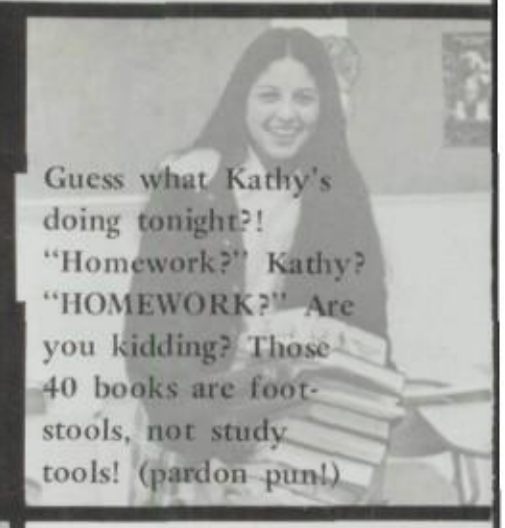
The Path From Start To Finish...

To Adventures and Many New Friends

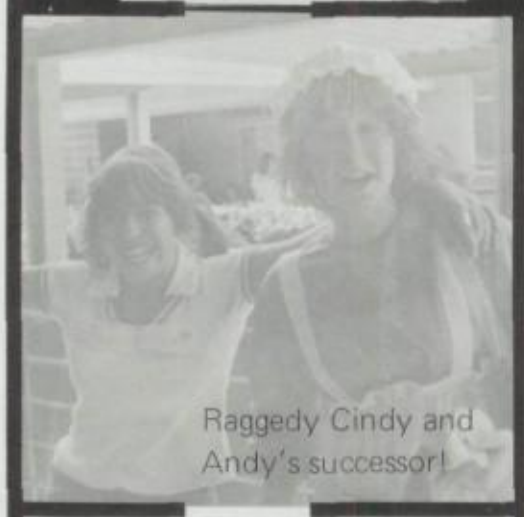
START

You think you look simply fab in your new Cover-guck face make-up. And you just can't understand why people keep telling you that Halloween has past . . .

With Sadie Hawkins' only a week away, Dial-a-Date failed you again. This one calls for Dial-a-PRAYER!



Guess what Kathy's doing tonight?!
"Homework?" Kathy?
"HOMEWORK?" Are you kidding? Those 40 books are foot-stools, not study tools! (pardon pun!)

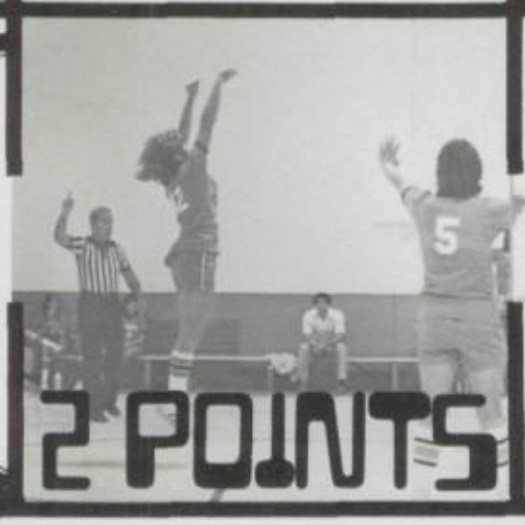


School WONDERS

Stay here one turn to get out of your bad mood.
(Try to forget that you have 2½ years left at SJHS and that means 30 more finals! 27 of which are bound to be total ulcer causes!

Probation One

For trying to convince Mrs. Bruce that it's pure coincidence that you're always tardy to the same class, and, after all, what's 30 minutes?



Get message from the Media Center about an overdue book from 1975. THE FINE? Let's just say CROCKER couldn't handle the loan!

As in all other aspects of our life, change is ever-present in our relationships with those around us. From the time we are born we have a chain of friends that begins with our parents and lengthens as we grow. It is linked by our schoolmates and expands with every person with whom we come in contact.

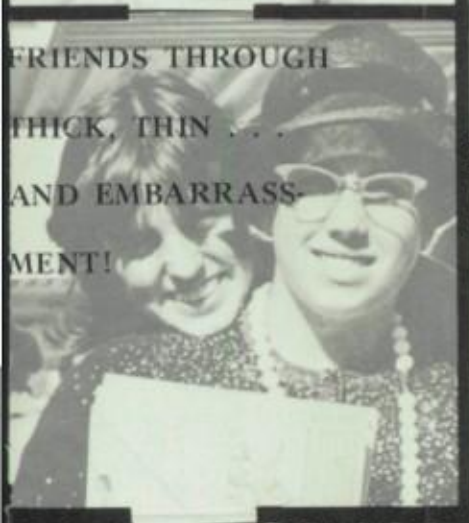
As we grow our circle of friends changes. Although we always value both old and new friendships, we cherish the understanding and trust afforded by friends.

For many people change is hard to face in our friendships. It affects the stability of the relationship and may present new and unknown fears to the people concerned. However it is inevitable, as people we grow. Growth involves change, so people change. "Friendship" is working with change not against it.

How do you feel when you give Carey home-made cookies for Christmas and another friend, R. (for "rich") Rita gives her a Porsche – gift-wrapped and all?

The boy you and Karen have been avoiding showed up at the bus-stop this morning – but, Karen didn't!

Sister's pal Albert takes 2nd seat to the flash-unit!



FRIENDS THROUGH THICK, THIN . . . AND EMBARRASSMENT!

A Spin of the Spinner doesn't end the game: it merely halts it to be continued Elsewhere!

Mrs. Parkins & Miss Keiser

You were the only grad who wore her gown home from graduation, 'cause nobody told you to wear something UNDERNEATH it!!

Some Friends . . . they told me those candy bars were dietetic!

Ah shucks — the end of the game — already??!!

She should've danced all night . . .

FRIENDS

You cried when you came into this school, you cried for various reasons during your years here, and now you're crying because you're leaving . . .

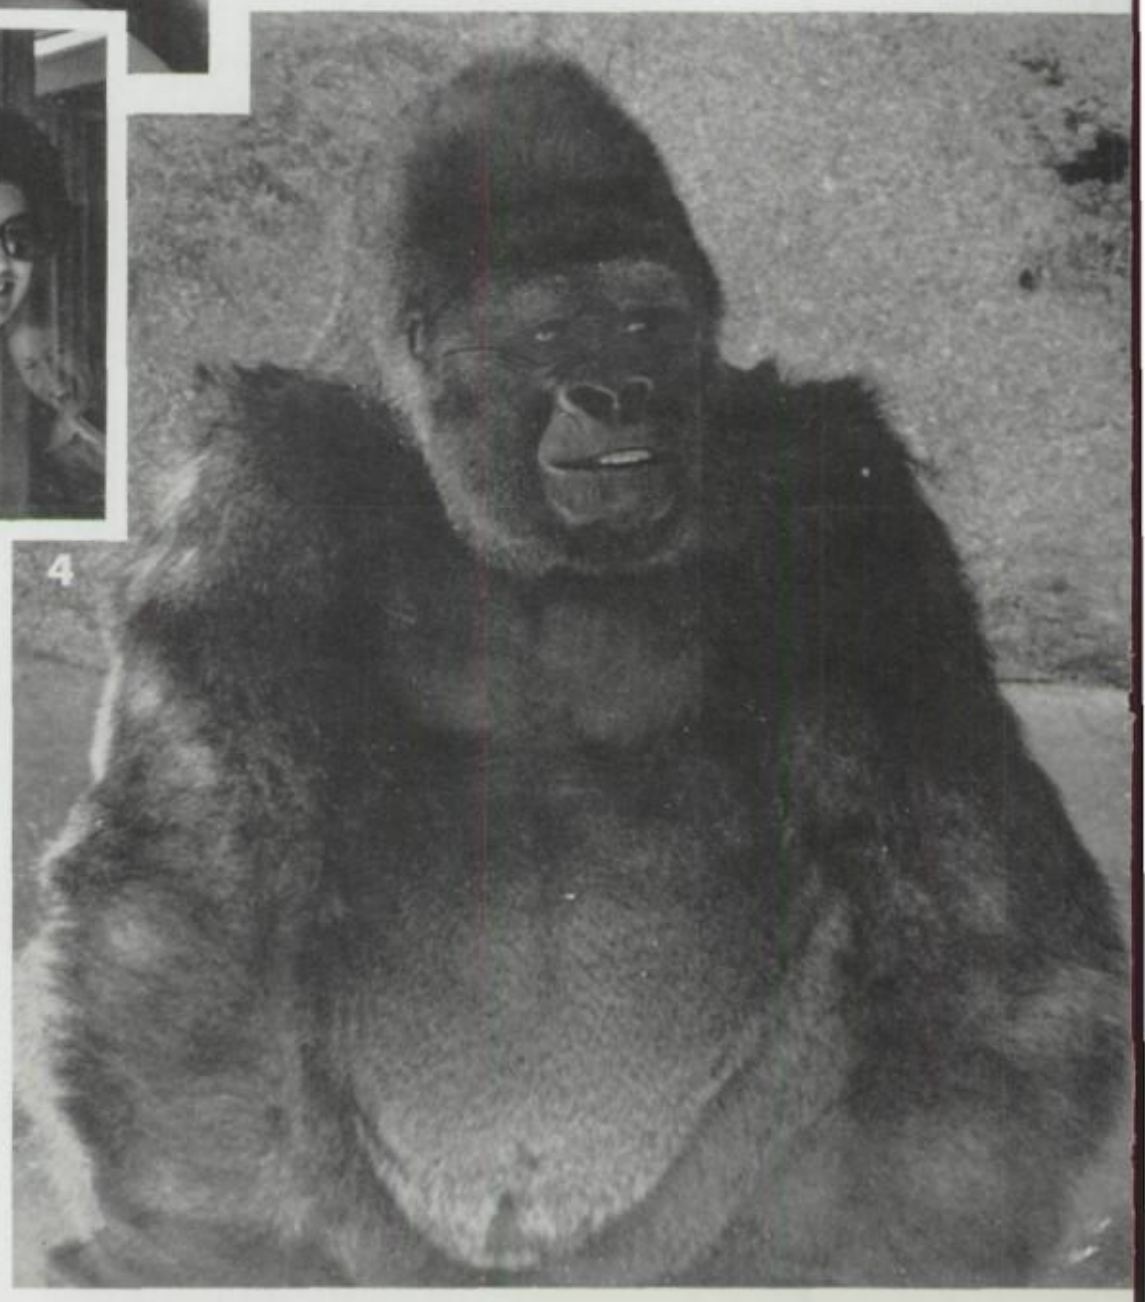
Yearbook Insanity

1. Either yearbookers can't read, or they don't know an animal when they see one! (which of you fed 'em?)
2. Now, a word from our boss! "Dxpo quto laeyo aoiust".



3. Here, Sister says, "PEOPLE, WORK!" Ahh, that well known phrase brings back so many memories of long, long hours, no pay . . .
4. It's amazing! Charlotte seems to get in the darndest places! Silly! We TOLD you to stay away when it's feeding time!

1. Sister recruits for future yearbook members at the Zoo.
2. Carla feeds the goat its daily diet of Zoo maps.
3. Becky and Celeste' search for their long-lost cousins.
4. No, no! You'll never escape! here comes Sister Nancy!
5. Tough Tacos Studio 54! J and J disco in Room 202!

WE'VE Got It!

It is only fitting that the yearbook staff took its staff photo at the zoo this year, being just a bunch of rare species themselves. Take Mary for example. (PLEASE!) To the average observer, Mary seems a bit wacky, but not to us. We KNOW she's wacky! Both Janice and Charlotte agree that yearbook is enough to curl your hair. Janice may often be seen on the floor laughing hysterically or begging for pictures at the darkroom door. Charlotte remains calm cowering under a desk while Debbie plays Einstein by mixing photography chemicals. Karen's fantasies about Clint Eastwood are almost as mild as those in "Wicked Loving Lies". The Moles, alias Birdie, Becky, and Celeste, hum their favorite song, "Blinded by the Light" while they dabble in fixer and dream only of Neil Diamond. Joy tries desparately to refrain from stomping on the cameras with her patented iron cleats. Ellen now puts her headlines on EVERYTHING! Carla LONGS for Tony while Jenny boogies to the BeeGees. Berta and Pat have gone AD-MAD & poor Laura & Sister Nancy preside over the whole sordid mess. Ah! Yearbook!

1. Be a model OR just LOOK like one! (this is NOT how).
2. When not working (almost always) L 'n J go natural.
3. Debbie, once again, has "gotten our goat"! How cute!
4. Janice's words of wisdom bounce right off the top of Birdie's otherwise hard to hit head! (No loss!)

1. Ellen is attacked by a man-eating lion while Celeste and Berta cheer him on. Boy, do we wish we could've been there!
2. Monkey see, monkey do. Laura still has some evolving to do.
3. Nobody can say the Staff is square. (Triangluar maybe).
4. Yearbook is not just lay-outs, it's also Lay-Downs.

1. Debbie Baca and sheepdogs have a lot in common . . .
2. RED ALERT! RED ALERT! Male species! MEN ON CAMPUS! Hurry, before Karen and Ellen get them!
3. The 78-79 Yearbook Staff (which is responsible for this "creation" despite denials) is, from left to right: Carla Lanting, Laura O'Hair, Ellen Bryant, Debbie Baca, Karen Martinez, Mary Costello, Joy Condon, Becky Rivera, Jenny Schock, Birdie Rivera, Celeste' Anderson, Berta Arrabal, Janice Binggeli, and (not pictured) the indigestible Charlotte Hart (what a case of "Hart" burn that gorilla had!) and the invisible Pat Miller. We of the Yearbook staff did not realize Sr. Nancy's abounding patience and generosity. We have nominated her for canonization. She is responsible for many of the good times we have had: banana splits in the back and Christmas parties up front. Now, "Happy trails to you, until we meet again."

wish to express our sincere gratitude to those who have helped us through one of the most traumatic experiences of our lives (e.g. the creation of this book). Special thanks to:

√ Mr. Alan LaMont who patiently does our paste-ups.

√ Mr. Steve Wagner representative from the American Yearbook Co.

√ Mr. Bill Christy of Christy-Shepherd Studios.

The Times They Are Changing

The Times They are Changing

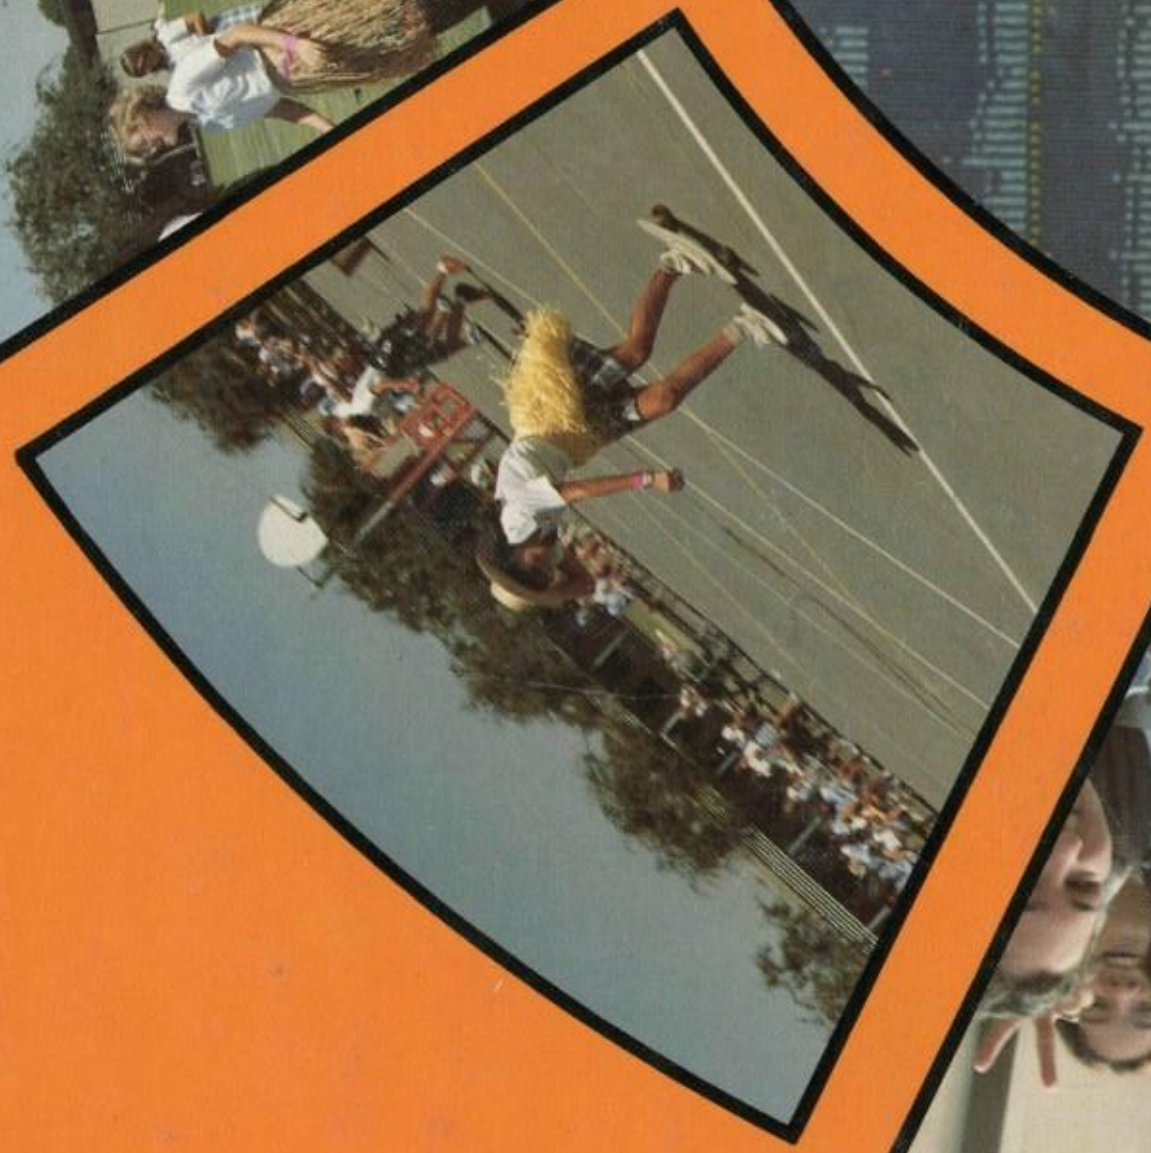
Lisa,

Well, the school year is just about over - yahoo! I'm so glad. I'm glad I met you this year. Too bad your leaving - you poor thing - ha! It was fun in drawing. I hope you have a great summer & good luck in the future. Come back & visit us sometime.

Love,
DeeDee Roncour

HAVE FUN AT ALL THE CONCERTS YOU GO TO!!!!

Lisa,
Guess what I don't believe it after four long hard grotten years we finally made it. I know it's hard to believe but we'll probably have to pay a ransom to get out here. I remember meeting you freshmen year. At Beth's birthday and Little Sisa couldn't stay the night. But it was fun at Tonto. Now we have Religion and Drawing at last I know your name is on the roll sheet, but I never see you in class

Lucky I guess that's the best way. Hawaii ought to be great. I hope you have fun. But you'll probably get kicked off the Island. Well have a nice swim and good luck. See ya at Cerritos


Love Linda
